

Emami board to consider stock split

Emami said it will conduct a postal ballot to seek its shareholders' nod for a stock-split and increasing the number of board directors. The shareholders will pass resolutions to this effect through a postal ballot.