Actress June and dermatologist Subhro Bhattacharya launched Emami's Malai-Kesar Cream Soap at Starmark in South City Mall on Friday. Engaging in an interactive session with the audience, the duo dished out skincare tips. "Use a gel-based sunscreen in summer and a cream-based one in winter, whether under the sun or not, for protection against UVA radiation," said Subhro. Dispelling doubts about health myths, he insisted on lifestyle changes, diets and correct application of products. June, looking pretty in a floral tunic, stressed on the positives of the "less-chemicals, all-natural soap". She added: "Ten years ago we didn't have easy access to such products in the city. Today, the high level of concern about skincare among Calcuttans is obvious." Picture by Rashbehari Das
