Editorial Overview

This year has reminded us that growth is never a straight line. The macro environment tested the resilience of the FMCG sector with subdued urban sentiment, inflationary pressures and an unpredictable winter. At Emami, we chose not to be reactive, but responsive. We focused on our strengths, sharpened our brand positioning and invested steadily in areas we believe will shape the future — digital platforms, product innovation, modern trade and stronger consumer connections

At Emami, we believe resilience is not built in easy times. It is built when things get tough and you still choose to move forward, still choose to invest in your brands, your people and your future. That is exactly what we did.

While some categories felt the strain, others showed remarkable strength. But beyond numbers, what mattered most was that we continued to strengthen our connection with the people who trust us. Our brands showed resilience, our teams showed commitment and our strategy stayed anchored in long-term thinking rather than short-term fixes. Even amid headwinds, we stayed true to what we do best by reading the consumer pulse and adapting with agility.

Looking ahead, we are certain that better days lie ahead. Because we have seen time and again that when you keep faith, keep building and keep believing, the future has a way of rewarding that quiet perseverance.

And that is exactly what Emami will continue to do — build for tomorrow, with heart, with courage and with belief in the power of steady, meaningful progress.

DEAR SHAREOWNERS,

As we turn the pages on five remarkable decades of Emami, we find ourselves standing at the cusp of a new era, one that builds on our legacy of resilience, reinvention and relevance. The Emami of 2025 is not just an extension of our past, it is a vibrant reimagination, shaped by changing consumer dreams, shifting global landscapes and our unshakeable belief in meaningful growth. Through every economic wave, market shift and technological transformation, we stayed resilient— led by innovation, fuelled by agility and grounded in responsibility. In 2025, it is this spirit that powers a deeper embrace of digital possibilities, a richer evolution of our brands and a more intimate conversation with consumers across geographies.

The foundation of our success remains unchanged with a differentiated approach to business. What has always set Emami apart is its DNA to innovate and improve, thus always asking itself, 'What can we do differently?' From our first product to our most recent digital- first brand innovations, this question has been our compass — inspiring our bold moves such as our investment in new age companies, AI-driven insights, deeper rural penetration and sustained global expansion.

Every time we decided on a new product, the first question we asked ourselves was 'Alag kya hai?' What makes it stand apart? What makes it special enough to deserve a place in our customers' life?

In the beginning, it was just the two of us, holding onto this belief.

> As we move forward, our resolve is stronger than ever: to build an Emami that listens closer, moves faster and delivers holistic value to every stakeholder who shares this journey with us.

But soon, it spread like an unspoken language across our Company. Every team member, every partner, every vendor began to see through the same lens searching for that spark of difference in every little thing.

Emami's journey has always been built on strong roots — deep consumer trust, iconic brands, and the time-tested science of Ayurveda. These roots continue to anchor our growth, powering leading positions across core categories and delivering consistent value.

But growth demands fresh energy. That's why we are nurturing new shoots—entering high- opportunity segments, premiumising our offerings, investing in contemporary formats and building a stronger omnichannel presence. Backed by robust R&D and agile innovation, we are creating next-generation solutions for today's health-conscious, quality-seeking consumer.

In a world that continues to test and surprise, we chose persistence over pause. We continued to invest in talent, strengthened our brand architecture and sharpened our focus on sustainable and inclusive growth. These conscious choices have positioned us strongly for the future where Emami is a brand of trust. We believed, and still do, that success is not an accident. It is crafted lovingly and meticulously by making sure that every product feels better, looks better and lives better.

As we move forward, our resolve is stronger than ever: to build an Emami that listens closer, moves faster and delivers holistic value to every stakeholder who shares this journey with us. We step into the future with gratitude for our people, our partners and most of all you, our shareowners who continue to believe in the Emami promise.

The story of 'Kuch Alag' is far from over. It is just getting started — with bigger dreams, bolder ambition and a heart full of purpose.

MD and Vice Chairman's Message

Mr. Harsha V. Agarwal, Vice Chairman and MD, Emami Limited

DEAR SHAREOWNERS,

Over the past five years, the FMCG sector has navigated through some of the most testing macroeconomic conditions in recent memory—an unprecedented pandemic, supply chain disruptions, heightened inflation and an extended spell of food inflation. Through these cycles of volatility, Emami has not only stayed resilient but emerged sharper, more agile and focused on value creation.

Strengthening the core

FY25 was a year where we decisively disproved a widely held market notion—that Emami's core categories had matured with little room to grow. The performance of our flagship brands tells a different story. Our core portfolio posted strong growth despite external challenges such as a slowdown in urban discretionary demand and a delayed winter. These are not just legacy brands; they are strategic powerhouses, backed by decades of trust, robust equity and untapped penetration potential.

Our focus is not in categories like soaps or toothpaste. We are in niche spaces where household penetration is still low—single digits, maybe low double digits at best. That is not a weakness. That is headroom. That is opportunity.

Most of our brands are still underpenetrated. We are not here to play in overcrowded categories. We have established leadership in high-margin, high-potential spaces where others have yet to gain meaningful traction.

The challenge is relevance. Crack that and we open the floodgates. Once we drive relevance and unlock mass appeal, growth will follow. And when it does, scale kicks in fast. And that is exactly where we are headed. We hold leadership positions across several of these core categories and in most cases, face limited direct competition.

Be it mass, or premium, it is all about strategy. Do we want to scale up in the premium segment? Absolutely. Are we pushing the premiumisation play? Very aggressively and with a clear roadmap. The urban-rural equation is shifting too. About one and half years ago, rural was under pressure. Urban was booming. But now, rural is bouncing back—and our pulse on these markets is real-time and relentless. Premium is soaring in urban India. We are playing that game too—but without losing sight of the real India, the rising middle and lower-middle income consumers where our brands carry weight. We are doubling down on what works. Strengthening our core and evolving it to stay sharp for the new-age consumer. Legacy products stay, but they are getting a bold new edge. Navratna is not just Cool Oil and Cool Talc anymore. It is Gold – a lighter fragrant variant. It is Therapy – for stress relief and massage. BoroPlus goes beyond creams and lotions—now it is aloe gels and soaps. Kesh King? Still oil and shampoo. But now it has got onion. It has become organic. That is the play. Build on trust. Layer on relevance. We know where the market is headed and we are already there. If a reset is what it takes to stay ahead, we would not think twice. We will do it fast.

Dermicool, which came to us as a single-SKU brand, has been transformed into a multi-product franchise with new variants, soaps and shower gels. For example, now we have Dermicool Super Active Sweat Reliever with special formulation, which is targeted towards more active people. We are expanding overall addressable market, playing on the strength of the brand.

We have also infused energy into Navratna with premium innovations, while also driving accessibility through innovative formats. Notably, we have introduced a ₹1 sachet for Navratna Talc—an industry-first, as it is the only talcum powder brand in a sachet format. This move is being pursued aggressively, especially for rural markets where talc penetration remains low. With its unique proposition of fragrance and cooling, Navratna Talc offers strong value to consumers during the summer, helping them beat the heat effectively.

> "Most of our brands are still underpenetrated. We are not here to play in overcrowded categories. We have established leadership in high-margin, high-potential spaces where others have yet to gain meaningful traction."

The belief that Emami is overtly reliant on seasonal categories does not reflect the depth of our portfolio. While seasonal products like Navratna and Dermicool continue to thrive—and will always be part of our strength—we are equally anchored by robust, non-seasonal brands such as Zandu, Kesh King, Smart And Handsome and 7-Oils- in-One.

Across the board, from Kesh King to Smart And Handsome, we are re-evaluating our positioning, media strategies and portfolio interventions and we are willing to invest ahead of the curve. If it needs a sharper edge, a new voice, a better connect—we will make it happen.

We are not complacent. Kesh King, which had slowed down, is being course-corrected with a dual lens—tackling both near-term tactical issues such as pricing and channel mix and longer-term strategic repositioning. Similarly, we have revitalised Fair And Handsome into Smart And Handsome, expanding our addressable market in the male grooming space and signalling our commitment to relevance and modernity. Early signs are encouraging, with the brand returning to growth after multiple quarters of decline.

Now, let us talk about competition. We welcome it. It keeps the system sharp. Yes, the personal care and foods space has seen an influx of new players—mostly crowding the premium and masstige segments. But our strength lies in the masstige and mass segments—where our brands speak directly to the heart of India. This is a high-potential, low-clutter battlefield. And we know it better than most. From where we stand, there is absolutely no need to play the discount game to tackle competition. In fact, our focus is sharp—on reducing discounts, tightening efficiencies and driving value where it matters.

On the global front, our International Business has also stood tall even amid headwinds growing at a robust five-year CAGR of 11%, underscoring the sustained momentum and resilience of our international journey. As we scale new geographies, our strategy is rooted in relevance — innovating with region-specific offerings that cater to diverse consumer preferences, while staying true to our core strengths.

Building new engines of growth

We operate at the intersection of personal care and healthcare and we are expanding the field. Our investment lens is crystal clear: we chase opportunities where we do not yet exist. And when we enter, we enter with intent.

Consumers are moving away from chemical-laden products and embracing Ayurvedic, natural and herbal alternatives, pushing these categories firmly into the mainstream. Digitally native brands are gaining momentum, while science-backed skincare—featuring ingredients like niacinamide, salicylic acid and ceramides—is seeing a sharp rise in popularity.

Today's consumers are far more informed and discerning, seeking out clinically tested, dermatologically approved formulations. In urban India, there is a growing demand for clean-label, eco-conscious products, while in rural markets, the shift from generic to branded personal care is accelerating—fuelled by affordable sachet and pouch formats of premium offerings.

> "We are ambitious on topline. But we are equally aggressive on efficiency. Every rupee saved is a rupee reinvested—into brands, innovation and scale. We fuel growth without compromising on profitability. That is sharp execution and that is the Emami mindset."

There is also a growing convergence between nutraceuticals and FMCG, as health and wellness become central to everyday consumption. Quick commerce platforms are transforming access and convenience, leading to a rethinking of traditional general trade and modern trade strategies, and sparking innovation in packaging and impulse-driven product formats. Meanwhile, large players are responding by acquiring agile, high-growth startups—recognising that speed, relevance and adaptability are now key to staying ahead.

We are also working on building new engines of growth—segments that will define tomorrow. Health foods, nutrition, pet care and aloe vera based fruit juices—each one a deliberate strategic bet. In three to five years, our portfolio will be much sharper and future-proof.

When it comes to acquisitions, we are not boxed in by size or scale. If we see potential, we act. Big or small—what matters is strategic fit. And equally, at the right price. That is the only filter. As a Company, we are debt-free, cash-rich and agile. If an opportunity aligns with our long-term vision, investment is never a constraint.

A few years ago, we identified the need to be present in aspirational, high-growth segments. We acted early and invested in new age start-ups. Today, The Man Company and Brillare, both now wholly owned, contribute more than 5% to our topline and form the core of our new-age premium portfolio. While The Man Company has seen near-term volatility, we are confident that with the right operational pivots and brand-building focus, the potential remains significant.

We are equally bullish on our Healthcare business, where we are driving innovation and scale through Zanducare, our D2C platform. This digital-first vertical has already launched over 100 products tailored to online health-conscious consumers and is building a strong brand moat in an increasingly personalised wellness landscape.

A core strength of Emami today lies in the quality of its revenue mix. Nearly 45% of our revenues now come from high-growth and strategically important areas—Modern Trade, E-commerce and Institutional Channels, Strategic Subsidiaries like The Man Company and Brillare and our advancing International Business. These verticals, alongside our core portfolio, provide both scale and resilience to our growth engine.

We are here to build for the next decade. That is our philosophy. If the business demands higher investment today, we do not think twice. Because we know what it takes to win. Growth without conviction is fragile. Ours is built on foresight.

Yes, we are ambitious on topline. But we are equally aggressive on efficiency. Every rupee saved is a rupee reinvested—into brands, innovation and scale. We fuel growth without compromising on profitability. That is sharp execution and that is the Emami mindset.

Beyond Profits: Our Commitment to Sustainability and ESG

At Emami, sustainability is not a feel-good footnote. It is at the core of our operations and we go after it with intent and intensity.

We have brought down our absolute energy consumption by 12% over the baseline year of FY22. Energy intensity per rupee crore of turnover? Down by 19%. Water use-25% lower in absolute terms, with a 31% drop in water intensity. Today, 19% of our energy needs are met through renewables, and we recycle 33% of the water we consume. Emami is now proudly plastic neutral since FY24. Our Scope 1 and 2 emissions? Down by 17% over baseline. These are hard numbers backed by decisive action.

Today,

of our energy needs are met through renewables

Our CSR efforts have reached

6.8 lakh

individuals across the country in FY25.

Beyond the environment, we believe in impact. Our CSR efforts have reached 6.8 lakh individuals across the country in FY25. Over the last five years, we have committed over ₹53 crores to uplift communities through education, healthcare, livelihood and infrastructure support. This is what responsibility looks like when it is backed by purpose. This is how a business builds more than profit—it builds permanence.

On governance, we believe our combination of strong promoter involvement and deep professional leadership is a competitive advantage. Our senior management team includes long-tenured professionals with industry experience, brand understanding and category depth. As we grow, we continue to strengthen the organisation with new capabilities, including sharper analytics, digital marketing and innovation frameworks.

Entering a phase of acceleration

Looking ahead, we remain confident in the improving consumption outlook. With inflation tapering, interest rates moderating and rural sentiment on the mend, we believe the operating environment will become more conducive. Add to this a strong forecast for monsoons and income tax benefits for the middle class, we expect to see a revival in demand in the coming quarters.

At Emami, we are building a future-ready consumer business—one that leads across categories, channels and geographies. We are creating our own tailwinds. Whether it is investing in the right enablers to unlock faster, smarter growth—leveraging technology to drive efficiency and agility, deploying capital strategically or strengthening our talent pool wherever required. We have the capital, the capability and the conviction. Most importantly, we have clarity—on where we play, how we win and how we deliver long-term value to all stakeholders.

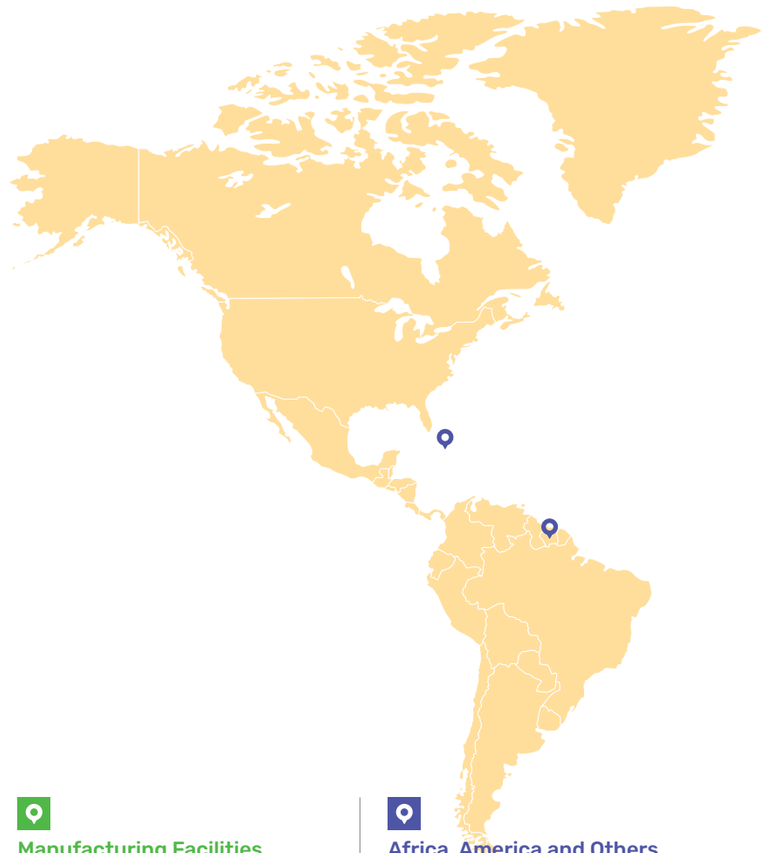

This is not just a phase of reinvention. It is a phase of acceleration. And we are only just getting started.

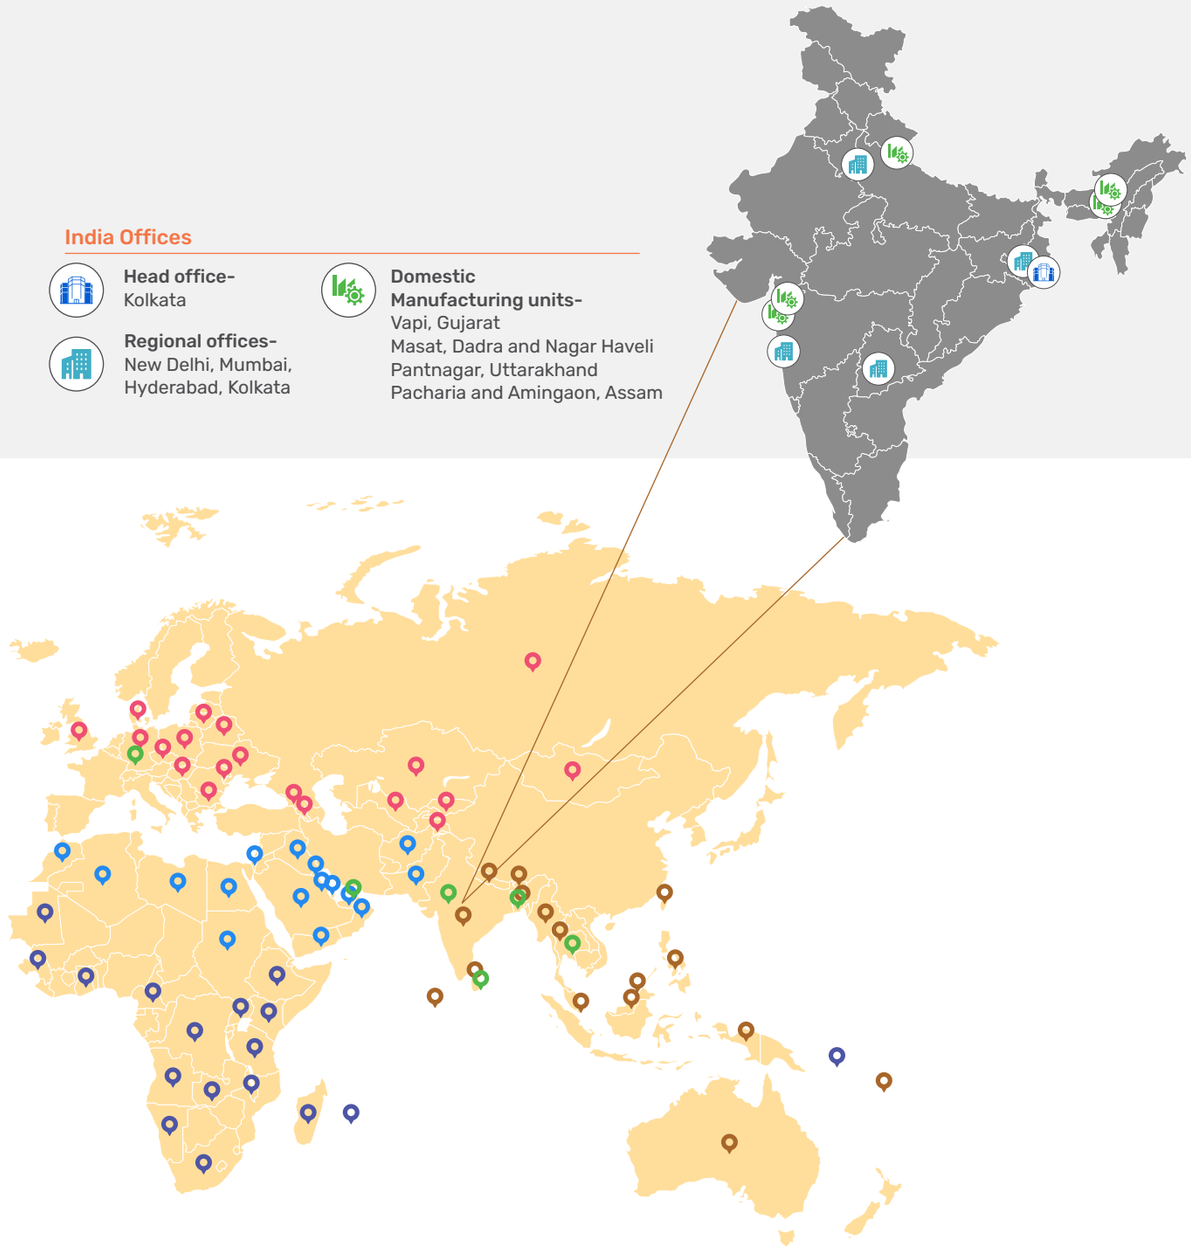

Warm regards,

Harsha V. Agarwal
Vice Chairman and Managing Director

Cover Story

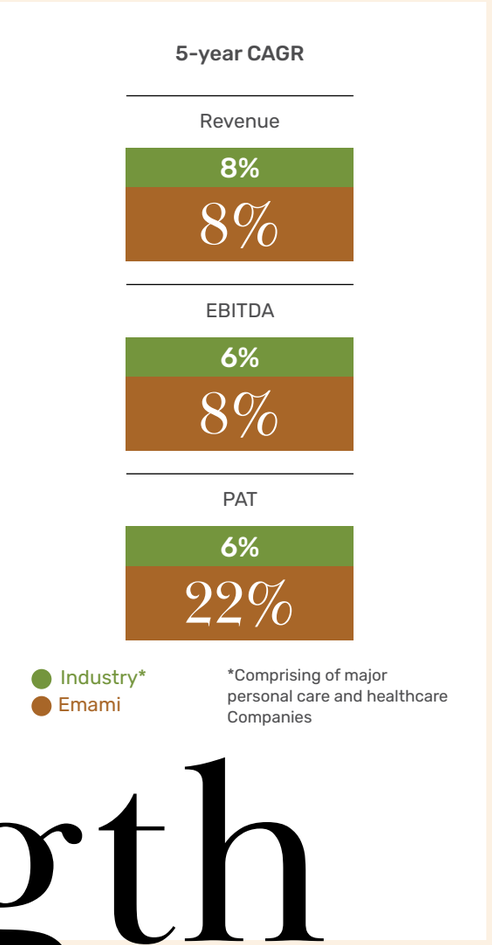

STRONG ROOTS

Every thriving tree tells a story of roots that run deep. At Emami, our journey over the last five decades has been just that: a story of strength built below the surface, anchoring us through seasons of change.

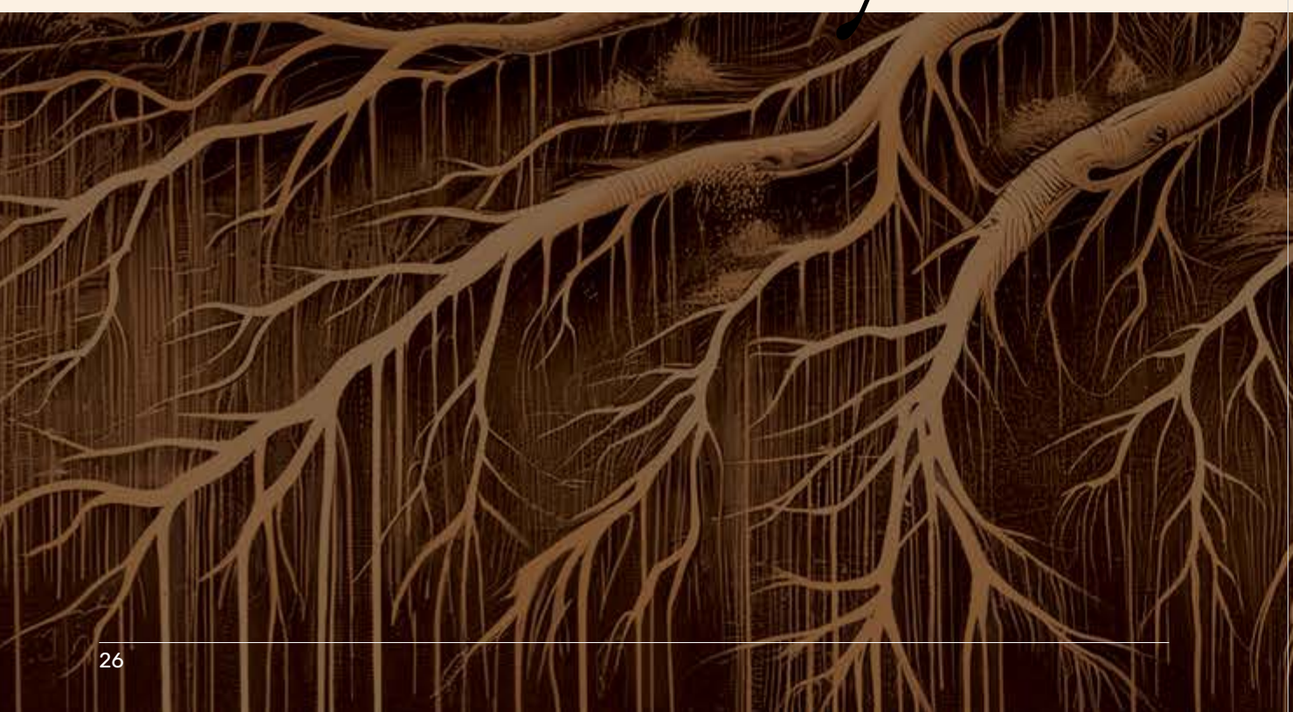

We have always believed that progress does not come from rushing ahead, but from understanding where we stand, who we serve and where the real opportunity lies. This is why we have never just chased market share but created markets. From taking familiar categories and reimagining their purpose to building brands that became household names in every corner of India, our roots have grown intuitively, boldly, with a thumb on the consumers' pulse.

Strengthening the Core

Emami's journey has been one of resilience, adaptability and deep consumer connection. Over the past five years, the FMCG landscape has been tested by a series of unprecedented disruptions—ranging from the COVID-19 pandemic and sustained inflationary pressure to erratic consumption trends and an extended spell of food inflation. Through all of this, Emami stood firm. We strengthened our foundations by staying close to our consumers, responding with agility and doubling down on what we do best—building brands that are deeply rooted in everyday Indian life.

A Story of Strength

Crafting Mass Appeal in Niche Spaces

Emami's brand portfolio is uniquely positioned—rooted in niche categories, yet crafted for the mass consumer. This rare convergence of volume and value has long been our differentiator. Operating in specialised segments, our brands enjoy a natural moat, with rising consumer consciousness around Ayurveda, health and hygiene setting the stage for sustained future growth.

FY25 testified this enduring strength. Our core brands—Navratna, Dermicool, BoroPlus and the Zandu Healthcare range—held their ground and delivered robust growth. This performance reshaped long-standing market perceptions, demonstrating the untapped potential of our categories and the growing resilience of our portfolio beyond traditional seasonality. Contrary to this belief, we have never viewed our brands through a seasonal lens. In fact, our strategic acquisition of Dermicool—a quintessential summer brand—demonstrated the value in doubling down on seasonal relevance, backed by the right growth levers. The results spoke for themselves.

Take BoroPlus, for instance. Despite a delayed winter, the brand saw strong growth, propelled by enhanced distribution, focused trade initiatives and the success of new extensions such as BoroPlus Soft and BoroPlus Lotions. Most notably, the flagship antiseptic cream regained market momentum and expanded its market share—affirming both its timeless relevance and consumer trust.

Our balanced portfolio strategy is yielding dividends, mitigating seasonality and anchoring long-term performance. Even in a competitive landscape, our strong brand equity continues to insulate us, while the enduring relevance of our products ensures we remain a preferred choice in Indian households.

Kesh King is undergoing a strategic transformation aimed at addressing structural and tactical challenges across channel mix, pricing, SKU mix and media planning. We partnered with BCG to sharpen Kesh King's strategy on solving both medium-term strategic issues and tactical challenges. The brand will undergo a significant revamp in the second half of FY26.

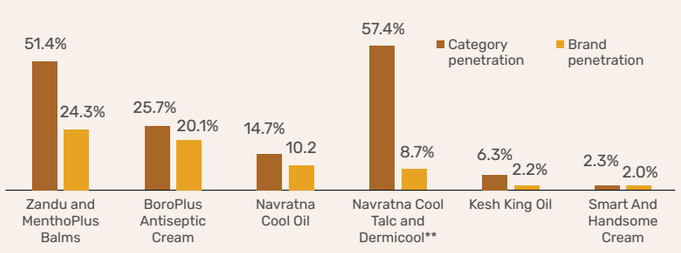

In a bold and forward-looking move, we repositioned Fair And Handsome as Smart And Handsome—a contemporary rebranding that signals our evolution in the fast-growing male grooming space. This shift has already begun to bear fruit, with the brand registering a promising 7% growth in the final quarter of FY25.

Importantly, this repositioning was not a reactive step to societal discourse around fairness. Few years ago, when many in the industry moved away from fairness-led narratives, we stayed the course—confident in our brand's relevance and resonance. But the landscape is changing, and so are the aspirations of the modern, metrosexual man.

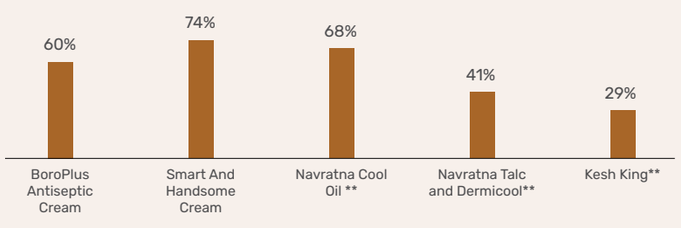

Today, we see an expansive opportunity far beyond face care—a space that embraces holistic grooming and self-expression. With this insight, Smart And Handsome emerges not just with a rebranded product, but with a renewed ambition. Through this strategic repositioning, we have dramatically expanded our Total Addressable Market from ₹759 crores to an impressive ₹6,700 crores.

As we look ahead to FY26, we are poised to launch a dynamic New Product Development (NPD) pipeline, offering integrated face, body and hair solutions tailored to the evolving needs of India's new-age male consumer. Smart And Handsome is more than a name change—it is our entry into a broader, more vibrant world of possibilities.

Building Bridges to Global Growth

Our International Business continues to demonstrate resilience and consistency, even amid global headwinds. In FY25, while geopolitical tensions in regions like Bangladesh and the CIS created temporary disruptions, the underlying fundamentals of our overseas operations remained strong. Despite modest growth of 4% during the year, our five-year CAGR of 11% reflects the sustained momentum of our international journey.

Our long-term strategy is focused on taking India's rich heritage of herbal and natural wellness to the world. We are prioritising the top 15 countries that currently contribute nearly 80% of our international revenues, ensuring sharper focus and deeper market penetration. To cater to diverse consumer preferences across geographies, we are expanding and adapting our product portfolio with region-specific innovations.

Operational agility remains key. We have scaled up local manufacturing to approximately 70%, enabling us to meet demand efficiently and respond quickly to market shifts. Empowering our regional leadership teams has also been central to this strategy, driving faster, market-aligned decision-making. Today, 85% of our international workforce comprises local talent—strengthening cultural resonance and operational responsiveness.

Significantly, our international business now contributes 17% to our consolidated revenues, up from 15% in FY20. This growth has been driven by a sharper focus on consumer-centric innovation across age groups and life stages, with new product launches spanning baby care, youth grooming, adult wellness and more.

Emami's global journey is just getting started—rooted in tradition, guided by insight and fuelled by innovation.

Strategic Reach for Meaningful Growth

Distribution has always been a cornerstone of Emami's growth strategy—one that goes beyond reach to deliver relevance, efficiency and impact. Over the years, we have undertaken a series of strategic initiatives to strengthen our Sales and Distribution framework, ensuring sharper last-mile execution and deeper market penetration.

One such transformative initiative was Project Khoj, aimed at enhancing our rural footprint. While the results were not immediate, we remained steadfast in our long-term vision. With the rural markets rebounding in FY25, the true value of this investment is now clearly visible—delivering significant uplift through better coverage, outlet mapping and beat optimisation enabled by geo-tagging.

We are also leveraging digitalisation and advanced analytics to identify high-potential stores and enhance in-store visibility. In a focused effort, we carved out 5,600 GT mart stores, resulting in a robust 45% growth within this segment. Our omnichannel merchandising initiative, Project EOFS (Emami One Field Services), is further empowering our top GT retail stores with consistent brand presence and shopper engagement across touchpoints.

More importantly, our distribution strategy has evolved from a pursuit of sheer scale to one of quality and profitability. Instead of expanding indiscriminately, we have concentrated our efforts on high-throughput outlets that offer better margins and stronger brand presence. This strategic shift has paid off in a positive way.

A few years ago, Emami's presence in aspirational, new-age channels such as modern trade and e-commerce was viewed as an area of opportunity. Through strategic focus and targeted initiatives, we have since strengthened our positioning and unlocked meaningful growth across these platforms. Organised channels have grown from contributing just 12% in FY20 to approximately 28% of Domestic Business in FY25—underscoring the strength of our portfolio, the precision of our execution and the power of brand reinvention.

The strength of our roots lies in their ability to evolve. Our long-standing brands are not relics of the past but are vibrant, growing assets that continue to shape our present and our future.

Supported by our state-of-the-art R&D and a robust innovation pipeline, we continue to strengthen our brand relevance and consumer connect. Over the years, our strategic celebrity associations have struck a deep chord with audiences, reinforcing trust and recall. Coupled with consistent and impactful media investments, a relentless focus on driving media efficiencies and a dynamic approach to exploring newer communication avenues, we are confident that these efforts will translate into strong, sustained results for our brands in the days to come.

NEW SHOOTS

Reimagining the Future

While Emami's core brands enjoy strong market leadership, they also present a unique opportunity to evolve further by enhancing their aspirational appeal and connecting more deeply with younger, new-age consumers.

As a legacy-driven organisation, Emami does not mirror the operating style of a start-up, but we fully recognise the value of agility, innovation and contemporary consumer relevance. That is why, in line with our portfolio expansion strategy, we have made strategic investments in high-potential start-ups across emerging, aspirational categories.

We were among the first FMCG players in India to identify the potential of new-age consumer brands and actively back them. Our investments span premium male grooming, high-end professional salon-based skincare and haircare, pet care, nutrition and aloe vera-based fruit beverages—segments with strong tailwinds and growing consumer traction.

The Man Company and Brillare—both now fully owned by Emami—have emerged as breakout brands, contributing more than 5% to our topline. Since FY21, these brands have scaled 4X, validating our early bets and reinforcing our long-term conviction. Moreover, we retain the option to increase our stake in other invested start-ups as they meet predefined performance benchmarks—offering further potential to elevate our portfolio and topline contribution.

Importantly, while we support these ventures strategically, we have preserved their independent operations and entrepreneurial culture. This approach allows them to thrive within their unique ecosystems while benefiting from Emami's institutional strengths. In a move to accelerate the next phase of growth for The Man Company, we have a new leadership in place with extensive industry experience and strategic acumen to steer the brand to new heights.

Emami's investment playbook blends legacy with innovation, building a bridge between tradition and tomorrow.

Strategic Investments

While our core continues to anchor us with stability and strength, our future lies in where we choose to grow next—like new shoots reaching for the sky, drawing life from deeply rooted values. At Emami, these 'new shoots' reflect more than just expansion; they are symbols of a legacy in motion—a brand reimagining itself for the future, powered by insight, innovation and purposeful intent.

Over the past few years, we have embarked on a conscious journey to build the next phase of growth—broadening our presence across channels, categories and consumer cohorts. This journey is not just about extending existing lines; it is about identifying white spaces, entering high-growth arenas and shaping emerging consumer behaviour through differentiated offerings.

A key part of this strategy has been our forward-looking investments in disruptive, future-ready start-ups. We were early believers in the power of premiumisation and niche lifestyle categories—backing brands like The Man Company in men's grooming, Brillare in salon-grade skincare and haircare, Furball Story in pet care, Trunativ in protein nutrition, and AloFrut in aloe-vera-based beverages.

Today, The Man Company and Brillare not only diversify our portfolio but also signal a clear shift towards a more premium, future-focused identity for Emami.

By nurturing these new shoots with the same commitment that built our core, we are crafting a future where heritage meets bold ambition—where Emami is not just a trusted name, but an inspiring one.

Zanducare

Our digital strategy is deeply embedded within our organisation, with Zanducare, our direct-to-consumer (D2C) e-commerce platform, serving as a key pillar of this transformation. Through Zanducare, we have launched over 100 digital-first products, tapping into emerging needs with agility and precision.

More than just a sales channel, Zanducare is helping shape the future of our Healthcare business. It allows us to build richer, more personalised relationships with consumers, understand their preferences in real time and co-create solutions that are both relevant and effective.

This direct connect is strengthening our brand portfolio while also addressing key investor expectations—demonstrating that our digital bets are not just about presence, but performance and purpose.

Evolving with Purpose

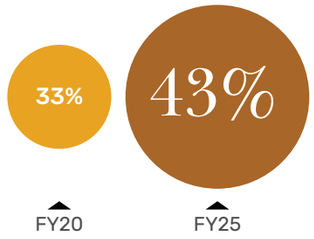

Emami's renewed growth trajectory is steadily dispelling old perceptions of stagnation. Today, we are moving with intent—stepping into aspirational, premium-led spaces, building a more resilient blend of seasonal and non-seasonal brands, and reinforcing our foundation through enhanced transparency, governance and a balanced leadership model that combines promoter vision with professional expertise.

Our efforts are translating into tangible results. Nearly 45% of our total revenues now come from high-growth engines—spanning modern trade, e-commerce, institutional channels, digital-first brands and international markets. This marks a structural shift in the way Emami is growing—more diversified, more balanced and better aligned with the evolving aspirations of modern consumers.

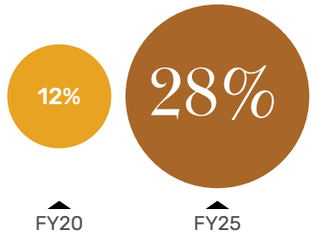

As we look ahead, these new shoots are poised to define Emami's next chapter—a future that is bolder, broader and unmistakably future-ready. Yet through all this change, we remain rooted in the values and strengths that have always defined us.

BoroPlus

At a time when everything aspirational wore a ‘foreign’ tag, we reached inwards. Ayurveda was a brave choice that was scarcely being attempted by any prominent player in the country at that time. While the world chased the gloss of the West, we bottled the wisdom of Ayurveda. What seemed old-fashioned back then is what sets us apart today.

Providing Care for All Generations

For years, BoroPlus has been a quiet companion in Indian homes, passed down from one generation to the next. What started as the go-to antiseptic cream, BoroPlus now offers a full range of skincare—lotions, creams, soaps, prickly heat powders, aloe vera gels, petroleum jellies— all rooted in Ayurvedic wisdom.

We did not lose touch with our roots. The belief in natural healing, in doing no harm, in caring gently but effectively—still remains at our core. We blend tradition with modern innovation, creating products that resonate with evolving consumer lifestyles without losing sight of time-tested wisdom. BoroPlus today is still a highly trusted brand, just with more ways to show up.

Decades of Gentle Healing

Our BoroPlus brand is built on decades of trusted performance and reliable results. What started as a typical antiseptic cream became a symbol of care that families came back to, again and again. Over the years, what started off as a tube of antiseptic cream evolved into a diverse and comprehensive skincare portfolio, addressing a wide range of consumer needs across seasons and skin types.

Every product embodies our brand’s strong foundation in Ayurveda principles, providing nature derived safe and reliable solutions for consumers. Over the years, it has adeptly adopted modern innovations in formulation, packaging and consumer engagement, enabling it to remain relevant in an ever-evolving landscape. But at its heart, BoroPlus is still about the same thing it was on day one: gentle healing, quiet protection and the kind of care that earns trust—not overnight, but over time.

BoroPlus’ strong roots have nurtured new shoots, as it expanded into a diverse skincare portfolio, addressing evolving consumer needs across seasons and skin types, while staying true to its original promise of protection.

For those who prefer lighter care, BoroPlus Soft offers gentle, non-greasy hydration with the goodness of Ayurveda—perfect for use all year round.

When the sun turns harsh, our prickly heat powder and Ayurvedic soaps step in, bringing cool comfort to hot summer days. With every product, BoroPlus continues to do what it always has—provide care and protection to skin needs, season after season.

At the core of our growth strategy is the launch of innovative, benefit-led formulations that blend Ayurvedic wisdom with modern skin science—designed to engage younger consumers and meet their changing needs.

Our efforts to expand affordable SKUs ensure we reach a broader audience, while our R&D investments are helping us stay at the forefront of natural skincare.

For our valued stakeholders, this marks an exciting chapter—an opportunity to continue investing in a brand that has stood the test of time and is now poised for accelerated expansion and deeper consumer engagement.

Dermicool

When we decided to acquire Dermicool we saw an opportunity. Yes, but more than that, we saw a chance to do it better. To take a known summer essential and make it sharper, stronger, more relevant. That is exactly what we did. Not just to lead the prickly heat powder space, but to own the idea of what 'good for summers' really means.

Comfort Solution for Summers

Dermicool has always been a trusted summer-protection brand. After being acquired by Emami, it got a refresh, without losing its edge. Today, Dermicool brings comfort and care that works smart.

At its core is strong product claims of 'double power of neem and tulsi' which helps fight bacteria and ease prickly heat. Formulated with other natural ingredients like corn starch for sweat absorption, tankan amla to combat bacteria and menthol for instant cooling, it is a well-thought-out summer fix.

With a deep understanding of seasonal consumer needs we deliver rapid relief, hygiene and cooling while evolving into more personalised and convenient formats.

Providing Relief for Decades

Dermicool has been a go-to brand for prickly heat relief for decades. Over time we have expanded from iconic prickly heat powder format into soaps, sprays, gels and cohort-specific variants. Our growth is built on dependable performance, brand equity and a strong seasonal connect.

Pain Management

Today's fast-paced lifestyles have increased stress, translating into frequent episodes of body pain and headaches. However, drawing upon the trusted wisdom of Ayurveda and carefully incorporating its remedies into a diversified product range, Emami's Pain Management portfolio has been the solution for instant and long-lasting pain relief for over a century.

Building on the legacy of trust, the inherent goodness of Ayurveda and a steadfast commitment to quality, we bring pure, authentic and effective Ayurvedic remedies at affordable prices. With the classic jingle 'Peeda Hari Balm…' having made Zandu Balm a household name, our aim is to maintain our position as the automatic response for individuals seeking respite from pain.

Our pain management portfolio provides safe, effective and accessible solutions to relieve pain. With a growing need for non-invasive, topical relief amid rising lifestyle-related stress and physical discomfort, we ensure continuous innovation and a diversified product portfolio to meet evolving consumer needs. Our portfolio has been built on a strong foundation of trust and as we enhance our focus on delivering consumer-centric experiences and improving our digital availability, we aim to make tangible impact across urban and rural India.

Rooted in Ayurvedic Richness

Since the acquisition of Zandu in 2008, the brand has become synonymous with pain relief in Indian households. Over the years, we have successfully built on Zandu's equity by launching Zandu Ultra Power Balm and Zandu Fast Relief Range to expand our reach across demographics. This has involved a significant transformation of Zandu from a brand known for balms into a leading multi-format pain management provider, with offering solution in sprays, oils, gels, ointments and roll-ons.

Strong roots are the deeply ingrained legacy of the Zandu balm. The new shoots represent the strategic transformation and expansion into a multi-format pain management provider.

Identifying Market Gaps

We identify market gaps and consumer aspirations to tailor our production pipeline. For instance, the launch of Zandu Ortho Vedic Oil addressed the fragmented local dominance in the arthritis segment, offering a pan-India alternative backed by brand trust. Similarly, the spray and roll-on formats catered to younger audience who seek non-sticky, on-the-go and odour-free alternatives.

It is not just about balm, spray, or oil, it is about being a part of people's daily rituals, their recovery routines and even their quiet moments of self-care.

Healthcare

Wellness, sometimes, is in the quiet comfort of a spoonful of chyavanprash on a sleepy morning or the gentle push your digestion needs after a festive meal. Sometimes, it is a time-tested herbal concoction that builds strength and overall health from within.

At Zandu, we have shaped our wellness and healthcare range around how people really live. Busy mornings, late dinners, everyday stresses—we understand that care has to keep up.

What started as tradition is now something more—deeply personal, always evolving and made to move with you through every season, every story. Because for us, holistic care is a way of being.

Wellbeing That Begins With Trust

Zandu is a trusted name in the Ayurvedic and healthcare space centred on holistic healing and preventive care. We aim to enhance everyday wellbeing through scientifically-backed, natural formulations. Zandu has a very wide range of product offerings covering OTC products, Generics and Ethical medicines offering therapeutic health solutions through a regular outreach of Medico Marketing initiatives to the Ayurvedic fraternity of doctors covering multiple ailments and patient segments and a range of health and wellness products promoted through our D2C portal, Zanducare.com.

A Timeless Name With a Renewed Purpose

Zandu has a heritage spanning over 110 years. The brand earned widespread trust and recognition across generations, becoming a household staple for healthcare solutions.

This acquisition marked the beginning of a new era, allowing the brand to combine its traditional Ayurvedic strength with modern scientific capabilities supported by high quality of ingredients and rigorous tests in state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities, reaching out to a large number of consumers, doctors and patients across the country.

Zandu's old roots are in its long-standing Ayurvedic trust for holistic, preventive care and its well-known offerings.

Male Grooming

The desire of modern metrosexual man to stand apart in the crowd has spurred us on to become the brand of choice for modern men, reflecting the evolving attitudes towards male grooming routines and self-care.

They often say 'naam mein kya rakha hai', but this trailblazer in the male grooming segment has revamped its identity to deepen its recall as tomorrow's brand in the larger playing ground of male grooming that offers a wider range of categories to play with. The new name, Smart And Handsome from Fair And Handsome, embodies our focus on establishing the brand as a holistic and aspirational entity, having the possibility of delivering a varied range of quality male grooming products to modern men who wants more.

New Identity, More Products

The Male Grooming segment is witnessing a shift in cultural attitude towards aspiration and self-care – Smart And Handsome caters to the needs of these modern Indian men who are confident, ambitious and mindful of their grooming choices. We have shifted our approach, adapting to evolving consumer preferences and exploring a broader male grooming market.

Evolving to Lead

Launched as Fair And Handsome in 2005, we have been leading India's male grooming industry since inception. Over the years, our ability to understand the market dynamics, our agility to adapt to consumer trends and our expertise to deliver superior products that surpass expectations have helped us in garnering the trust of our consumers and build an unshakeable reputation in the market.

We have always kept our ears to the ground, keeping a sharp tab to maintain our competitive advantage. As a result, in 2025, we underwent a significant transformation-rebranding to Smart And Handsome to reflect the changing aspirations of men when it comes to grooming. With men embracing holistic grooming from head to toe as a necessary aspect of their daily routines, this rebranding upholds our capability to go beyond face and focus on boosting confidence and achieving overall grooming for healthy skin, body and hair.

Old roots are the deep trust and leadership built since 2005 as pioneer in India's male grooming industry, initially focused on face brightening products.

Kesh King

At Emami, we believe your hair deserves deep care, not just pampering. Our ayurvedic medicinal range does not believe in quick fixes or cosmetic cover-ups. It is about getting to the root, literally. Powered by potent Ayurvedic actives and crafted with clinical care, our formulations are made to treat, restore and strengthen from within. Whether it is fighting dandruff, tackling hair fall or reviving an unhealthy scalp, our focus is not just on hair—but deep within.

Trust in a Bottle

Hair fall does not mean just losing strands—it is about confidence slipping away, day by day. In a world running on stress, skipped meals and late nights, hair roots feel the pressure. That is where Kesh King steps in as a quiet promise. Rooted in Ayurveda, built on trust, it does not chase trends. It speaks to the scalp in a language of tradition. For those watching their hairline inch back, this is trust in a bottle.

Kesh King continues to strengthen its position in the ayurvedic hair and scalp care category by staying close to ayurvedic legacy, while opening doors to evolving tastes of our customers. Our range is a trusted companion for millions that speaks to both everyday needs and premium aspirations.

What keeps us grounded is a simple promise of 'holistic hair wellness' that goes beyond just fighting hair fall. And as the market shifts and trends come and go, our steady presence and loyal following say more than numbers ever could.

A Legacy of Tradition and Innovation

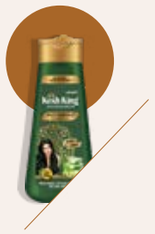

Becoming a trusted part of people's haircare journeys, it has been a long course for Kesh King. Known for our roots in ayurvedic healing, we have built a brand that consumers turn to. From leading Ayurvedic scalp care category to expanding into shampoos and stepping confidently into the D2C space, we have kept our ears to the ground, listening closely to what our consumers truly want.

Reaching New Heights

This year, Kesh King has deepened connection with consumers by focusing on what truly matters: authenticity, accessibility and effective Ayurveda.

Our shampoo sachets travelled far and wide, reaching consumers at melas, markets and other meaningful touchpoints. We showed up where our audience is—scrolling on reels, on the road and on store shelves.

FY25

Highlights

Kesh King focused on expanding brand reach, boosting trials and strengthening market presence:

Partnered with BCG to sharpen Kesh King's strategy on solving for both medium term strategic issues as well as tactical challenges like ecommerce, pricing - SKU mix and media effectiveness.

A high-impact campaign featuring Shilpa Shetty and Palak Tiwari was rolled out across television, print digital and OTT platforms, helping broaden the brand's appeal, especially among younger audiences.

A targeted go-to market strategy for shampoo sachets was supported by sampling drives, retail visibility boosts and activations at major events like the Kumbh Mela.

We continued investments in trade schemes, digital promotion and on-ground visibility to support retail offtake and consumer engagement.

Increased focus on social media, influencer campaigns and OTT content helped the brand strengthen digital presence and connect regionally.

The Kesh King Onion range was promoted through focused campaigns and in-store visibility, driving awareness and sales.

The Kesh King Organic Rosemary range was launched to cater to younger consumers seeking natural and effective scalp care solutions.

Customer-Centric Approach

We follow an integrated approach across rural and urban markets, guided by consumer feedback. To strengthen our reach, we are focusing on semi-modern trade outlets, introducing new sachet formats and refining product positioning.

Notably, the new generation is increasingly inclined towards hair colour, straightening and other styling trends that often damage hair. Acknowledging this shift, we are designing our products with Ayurvedic solutions that cater to their preference for natural and restorative care.

Strengthening Brand Identity

We have implemented a multi-faceted strategy to enhance our brand visibility and engagement across our portfolio. From high-impact campaigns to leveraging cultural events and digital platforms, our focus remains on connecting with diverse consumer segments.

Unlocking new avenues of growth

Our Kesh King portfolio is undergoing a strategic transformation, to address broader hair concerns; variant extensions in Kesh King are being explored.

We are strengthening our D2C presence through digital channels and enhancing brand positioning with premium offerings and modern formats. For our stakeholders, this signals a brand that continues to deliver on trust while unlocking new avenues of growth, ensuring that staying invested today means being part of tomorrow's success.

Nearly three decades ago, we looked beyond our borders and saw possibility — a chance to carry the essence of our homegrown goodness to homes across the world. What began as a modest export effort soon stretched into a robust business presence across distant geographies, building relationships, trust and presence in over 70 countries.

But like every journey worth taking, there came a point of pause — a plateau, where old ways no longer opened new doors. Rather than retreat, we reimagined. We listened closer, adapted and shifted from simply sending products abroad to truly belonging in the markets we serve. Today, our international story is written by hundreds of local professionals, across regions and languages, bringing our purpose to life in ways that resonate locally and last meaningfully.

This is no longer just about global footprint —

it is about growing roots in new soils, with respect, resilience and the promise to thrive together.

Region Wise Performance Analysis

SAARC and Southeast Asia (SEA)

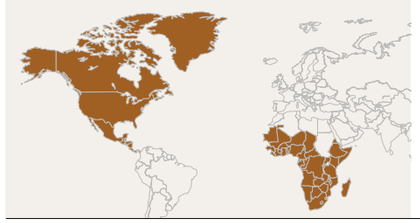

The SAARC and SEA region faced persistent macroeconomic and environmental challenges, including political instability in Bangladesh and Myanmar and flash floods in Nepal. While Bangladesh showed strong momentum earlier, contributing significant growth in local currency, this was followed by a contraction due to political and currency headwinds. Despite these disruptions, markets that received new product introductions showed promise, with repeat orders indicating emerging traction and consumer acceptance.

MENA

The MENA region remained a bright spot in the international portfolio, consistently delivering strong growth, driven by robust demand and improved brand visibility. Markets like the UAE and Saudi Arabia led this performance with double-digit expansion, supported by focused brand campaigns and deeper retail penetration. Localised manufacturing and faster go-to-market capabilities further enhanced responsiveness in this region, helping to navigate macroeconomic volatility effectively.

Africa and Other Emerging Markets

Africa and other emerging geographies witnessed stable growth amidst currency depreciation pressures in markets like Angola. The rollout of new product variants also began gaining repeat traction, contributing meaningfully to brand-level sales. However, Kenya and Uganda encountered socio-economic challenges that impacted momentum.

CIS and Eastern Europe

The CIS and Eastern Europe region delivered a mixed performance during the year. The initial months saw healthy growth, particularly in Russia, where Emami's heritage brand BoroPlus continued to enjoy deep consumer trust built over decades. Since the early presence in the 1990s, BoroPlus has evolved into a household staple in Russia, addressing everyday skincare needs with natural, herb-based formulations. However, the latter half of the year was impacted by ongoing geopolitical uncertainties, high interest rates and trade disruptions, leading to some sales decline. Despite these macroeconomic headwinds, the region remains strategically important. Brands like BoroPlus and Kesh King continued to gain consumer traction.

Brand Performance

The brand's heritage of German skincare excellence and its clean, dermatologically-tested formulations further strengthen the global appeal. Backed by Emami's international network, Creme21 continues to gain traction across both emerging and mature markets.

BoroPlus

Millions of units are sold across 30 countries—including EU, CIS, Russia, Bangladesh, SAARC and the Middle East etc. Consumers confidently rely on BoroPlus for safe, effective and skin friendly solutions adapted for local climates and skin types. This expanded range reinforces BoroPlus as a holistic, year-round skincare brand catering to varied consumer needs across international markets.

Strategic Investments

We invest with purpose, nurturing our acquired brands to outperform industry benchmarks and set the pace for innovation and expansion in both digital and offline markets.

THE MAN COMPANY

The Man Company

We acquired the remaining stake in Helios (The Man Company) from the erstwhile promoters, a transition that temporarily impacted operations but positions us for streamlined management going forward. During the year, we successfully onboarded major quick commerce platforms, which are expected to become strong sales contributors. These additions also support our strategy of expanding the portfolio to align with evolving consumer preferences. We are addressing current hurdles with a focused strategy to refine the brand positioning by launching targeted and engaging marketing campaigns to enhance customer experience, alongside continued investments in product innovation to develop new and exciting offerings. Key initiatives include implementing cost optimisation measures such as streamlining operations, vendor renegotiations for better rates, improved inventory management and a renewed focus on driving product innovation.

BRILLARE®

Brillare

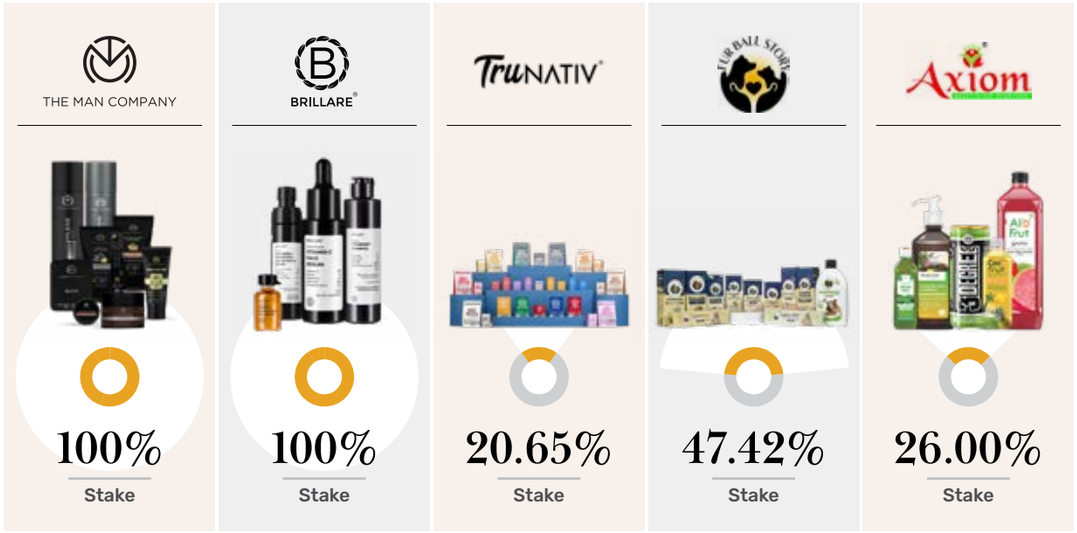

We continued a high growth trajectory, projecting exponential growth in the coming financial year driven primarily by offline and marketplace expansion. With increasing presence in the Hair, Skin and Body categories, the brand is focused on profitability and deeper offline penetration through salons and retail, now spanning over 3,000 outlets. Consumer offtake has also doubled across marketplaces and the brand's own website over the past year. The accelerated growth in e-commerce marketplace, modern trade and salon has driven strong sales traction.

We are focused towards further margin improvement through

Cost optimisation via commercial negotiations, vendor substitution and cost-effective alternatives for the same use case.

Performance spend optimisation by adopting more cost-effective ways and reinvesting the savings in brand marketing to drive more organic traffic to the brand.

Emami's Investment in Start-Ups

We cultivate value for our stakeholders at every turn by empowering our ecosystem to pioneer tomorrow's markets and redefine excellence across every touchpoint.

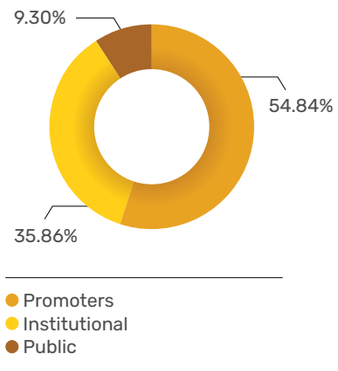

Through sustained innovation and adaptability in the FMCG sector, we have consistently delivered healthy revenue growth while maintaining stable profit margins. Our prudent financial management has resulted in improved Earnings Per Share (EPS), enabling us to maintain a sustainable dividend policy that supports our investors and shareholders. To further strengthen shareholder value, we employ a balanced approach of strategic buybacks alongside our commitment to returns on investment.

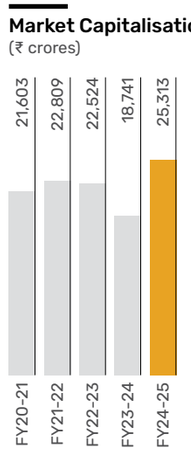

Empowering Shareholders on a Journey of Growth

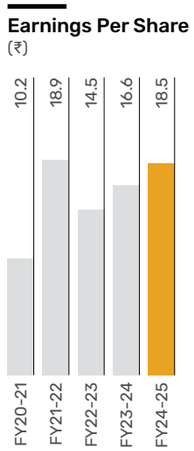

A shareholder who believed in Emami at its inception and remained invested through its journey has today seen their holding grow over 26,000 times in value over a span of 45 years. This incredible growth reflects not just Emami's consistent performance and strategic direction, but also the power of long-term commitment and compounding returns.

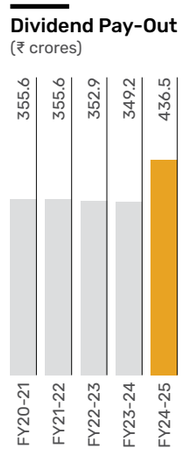

The story of value creation continued beyond the early days. Shareholders who invested during Emami's public issue in March 2005 have seen their wealth multiply over 53 times, while those who participated in the Qualified Institutional Placement (QIP) in July 2009 have enjoyed 12-fold returns to date.

Improving Production Efficiency and Reducing Downtime

Process separation to enhance productivity

We improved our main filling line by separating manual packing tasks from the main process. This eliminated disruptions caused by manual work, allowing the line to operate smoothly and boosting overall productivity.

Targeted efficiency improvements and real-time monitoring

We leveraged the TPM methodology and the power of Quality Circles to identify underperforming machines, address specific issues and implement solutions quickly. Continuous monitoring and real-time data enabled us to take immediate corrective actions, thereby reducing downtime and maintaining optimal machine efficiency.

Ensuring Consistency in Product Quality

Defect Detection Systems

We implemented high-end automated solutions to identify defects such as misprints or quality issues during production. We integrated a synchronised ejection system to remove defective items from the line, ensuring only compliant products to proceed.

Laser Coding Technology

We replaced traditional ink methods with laser coding across multiple lines to provide permanent, high-quality codes resistant to fading. This eliminates coding defects and ensures traceability throughout the product lifecycle.

Clean Air Flushing System

We incorporated an automated cleaning system to remove dust and debris from tubes, containers and components before packaging. This enhances product quality by eliminating the risk of contamination.

Standardised SOPs and Global Quality Compliance

We established unified SOPs, guidelines and adherence to ISO and WHO-GMP standards, ensuring consistency and compliance across all production stages through these protocols.

CAPA, Kaizens and Poka-Yoke Systems

We implemented quality-focused Kaizens and Poka-Yoke error-proofing systems. We address root causes of defects and prevent recurrence through comprehensive Corrective and Preventive Actions (CAPA).

Scaling Up Production

When scaling up production, we prioritise allocating major volumes to the most cost-effective unit to maximise fiscal benefits. If demand exceeds this primary unit's capacity, we seamlessly shift excess production to a backup facility, ensuring uninterrupted operations and preventing delays through strategic contingency planning. This balanced approach optimises costs while maintaining efficiency and reliability.

Optimising Production Planning for Seasonal Demand Fluctuations

To balance seasonal demand fluctuations and maintain cost efficiency, we pre-build stock in accordance with the seasonal production plan. This involves producing inventory ahead of peak demand periods, allowing us to cater to spikes in demand due to seasonal changes.

Streamlining Raw Material Management

We do not just source materials, but also cultivate partnerships that ensure every component aligns with our commitment to quality and value.

Emami employs a comprehensive strategy to streamline raw material management, focusing on supply assurance, cost efficiency, quality control and sustainability. We ensure a steady supply of raw materials, superior performance across all facilities, on-time connectivity for new product launches and weekly reviews to address supply challenges proactively.

Effective Cost Management

To manage costs effectively, we use timely strategic forward contracts and continuously negotiate material costs based on should-cost models. We focus on Design-to-Value (DTV) and Alternate Vendor Development (AVD) projects to uncover cost-saving opportunities. We also drive cost-saving initiatives through negotiation support, cost benchmarking and volume consolidation. We continuously monitor supply and demand dynamics, track price indices, conduct market research and perform cost avoidance analyses. By leveraging e-auctions and new bidding processes, we create competitive cost advantages.

Supplier Evaluation and Onboarding

We have a robust onboarding process for new vendors, involving multiple assessment models taken through cross-functional teams, such as the quality function. Thorough quality assessments are carried out to identify gaps and vendors are only onboarded once these gaps are mitigated. The technical and packaging departments also carry out assessment procedures to ensure supplier capabilities. Regular vendor partner meetings and visits are conducted to ensure ongoing review and monitoring of performance and compliance.

Resource Optimisation

A comprehensive waste monitoring system has been implemented to meticulously track wastage across all categories of packing materials and components. Small cross-functional teams are strategically formed to address specific wastage issues promptly and effectively. Focused efforts are directed towards minimising wastage during the manufacturing process through timely preventive maintenance of machinery. Additionally, measures such as 'pigging systems' have been implemented to mitigate sanitisation losses, with priority given to reducing rework by maintaining consistent quality in both packing materials and machine performance.

Strengthening Supplier Relationships

To strengthen relationships with suppliers, we monitor key quality performance indicators and take corrective and preventive actions as required. Regular vendor meetings are held to discuss challenges faced by both parties and find ways forward. We also monitor important parameters on order execution and communication with vendors, providing feedback wherever improvements are required.

Responsible Sourcing

We leverage our in-house IT tool, assessing our vendors on the nine principles of NGBRC to ensure strict alignment with Emami's sustainability objectives. These assessments cover a range of environmental and social factors, ensuring our vendors adhere to ethical labour practices, minimise environmental impact and promote resource efficiency. We engage in open communication with our vendors, providing guidance and support to help them improve their sustainability performance.

Localised Procurement

We prioritise near-sourcing of resources and explore localisation options wherever feasible, to mitigate overall transportation load and reduce lead times. This also helps us minimise our carbon footprint and enhance supply chain resilience. We also conduct thorough assessments of our transporters' performance, providing constructive feedback to drive continuous improvement.

We continuously monitor supply and demand dynamics, track price indices, conduct market research and perform cost avoidance analyses. By leveraging e-auctions and new bidding processes, we create competitive cost advantages.

Consumer-Centric Packaging

At Emami, packaging is not treated as a one-size-fits-all solution; instead, it is a strategic extension of brand storytelling, meticulously crafted to reflect the ethos and promise of each product line.

Our packaging development team works closely with marketing, design and R&D to ensure every product's packaging strengthens brand recall, consumer connection and shelf impact. Each Emami brand is anchored in a unique value proposition and our packaging translates this proposition into visual and tactile experience.

Innovative Packaging Solutions

We have made significant progress in FY25 by adopting advanced materials and ergonomic designs to extend product shelf life and improve user experience. Guided by R&D, climatic testing and consumer feedback, we introduced high-performance laminates with EVOH (Ethylene Vinyl Alcohol) for moisture-sensitive products, induction seals for tamper-evidence and freshness and UV-inhibiting bottles for photosensitive items. To enhance convenience and hygiene, we rolled out features such as the 360-degree spray valve in our Zandu pain management range. By integrating these innovations, we have reinforced product efficacy, safety and consumer trust, making our packaging innovative in this dynamic market.

Promoting Sustainable Packaging

We are transforming packaging into a force for planetary good. By aligning with India's Plastic Waste Management Rules, we have achieved plastic-neutral status through 100% compliance with Extended Producer Responsibility, forging partnerships to collect and responsibly process plastic waste. Leading the shift to biodegradability, we have replaced 200+ MT of plastic with compostable film for secondary packing of sachets, minimising environmental harm. We have embedded post-consumer recycled materials into packaging, embracing circular principles and meeting regulatory benchmarks without compromising quality.

Our Design-to-Value initiative relentlessly optimises materials, resulting in a reduction of approximately of plastic and

of paper in FY25.

Adopting Differentiated Packaging

In the competitive FMCG sector, packaging acts as a critical differentiator at the First Moment of Truth. We employ high-contrast colour coding-green for herbal care, blue for cooling products, gold for premium ranges-to ensure instant shelf visibility and quick consumer recognition.

Unique structural designs, such as Navratna Oil's contoured bottles and BoroPlus Soft's distinctive jars, enhance brand recall, while ergonomic features such as improved grip and one-handed operation boost user satisfaction and foster loyalty. Tailored elements such as regional motifs and bilingual labelling cater to diverse audiences, maintaining a balance between cultural relevance and premium quality to reinforce trust and credibility.

Unique structural designs, such as Navratna Oil's contoured bottles and BoroPlus Soft's distinctive jars, enhance brand recall, while ergonomic features such as improved grip and one-handed operation boost user satisfaction and foster loyalty.

Exploring Smart and Interactive Packaging

We are embracing smart and interactive packaging by integrating QR codes on our products, transforming them from static containers into dynamic touchpoints for consumer engagement. All Zandu D2C products and other brands such as Kesh King and BoroPlus now feature QR codes on their packaging, allowing consumers to instantly access detailed information about the Company, brand and product. This approach not only provides a tech-enabled edge over traditional packaging but also meets evolving consumer expectations for personalisation and transparency. Through this effort we intend to enhance brand loyalty and deliver richer, more informative and interactive experiences to our consumers.

Maintaining Packaging Consistency in International Markets

We maintain packaging consistency across 70+ countries through a 'Global Core, Local Customisation' strategy. Centralised specifications govern material composition, print quality and brand elements, ensuring uniformity in resin grades, laminate structures and visual identity. Regional adaptations include bilingual labelling, climate-resilient materials and compliance with local regulations, all while preserving core brand recognition. Our global supplier network undergoes rigorous audits for traceability, colour accuracy and durability testing. Multi-location quality assurance teams and distribution partners conduct shelf checks and analyse returns, triggering corrective actions via CAPA (Corrective Action and Preventive Action) protocols. This balance of standardisation and localised agility safeguards product integrity, reinforces compliance and upholds Emami's global reputation for excellence.

Increasing Transparency Through Packaging Communication

Packaging is not just a medium for branding at Emami but is a critical touchpoint for honest, clear and consumer-friendly communication. In a market where 83% of consumers read labels before purchase (Mintel, 2023), transparency in packaging is both a responsibility and a competitive advantage. We ensure all packs comply with the Legal Metrology Act and Plastic Waste Management (PWM) Rules. Our packaging combines scientific credibility, visual clarity and language accessibility, ensuring it serves as a trusted source information. This empowers consumers with knowledge about ingredients, usage, safety and sustainability.

R&D in Healthcare Business

We empower healthier lives by blending ancient wisdom with modern science, delivering the right value and quality to address the needs of today and tomorrow.

As people are increasingly prioritising health, we at Emami are bridging the gap between trusted traditional remedies and scientific advancements. We aim to uphold our design-to-value mantra while innovating new products, creating a unique value proposition through cost optimisation and steadfast approach to quality standards.

Our Innovative Framework

The increased consumer focus on health and wellness has significantly shaped our healthcare R&D strategies at Emami. We are moving towards cleaner and safer products. Further, we have implemented rigorous scientific studies and quality checks throughout our processes, reflecting a proactive approach to consumer safety and product integrity.

We have successfully obtained 'Organic' certification for our honey, guaranteeing our products are free from harmful residues and unnecessary additives. We are also committed to eliminating Endocrine Disrupting Chemicals (EDCs), such as phthalates and parabens, from our formulations.

> The increased consumer focus on health and wellness has significantly shaped our healthcare R&D strategies at Emami.

Gaining Tech-Driven Insights

We are embracing technology and data analytics to enhance our R&D processes, particularly in response to the rise of digital-first brands. By utilising data-driven insights from platforms such as MINTEL and HELIUM, we have accelerated and improved the efficiency of new product concept screening. Further, data from e-commerce sales has enabled us to identify lucrative ideas and promising categories, further guiding us in the design of innovative formulations and dosage forms.

Integrating Consumer Feedback in Product Innovation

Consumer feedback is central to our R&D process, assisting us in crafting products that meet evolving expectations. We regularly revisit our formulations, as exemplified by the replacement of refined sugar with nutrient-rich jaggery in products such as Chyavanprash. Our product development follows a Quality by Design (QbD) approach, involving multiple iterations and continuous improvement cycles. This iterative process, fuelled by direct consumer input, enables us to enhance product effectiveness and demonstrate our expertise.

Bridging the Gap Between Tradition and Advancement

Our R&D initiatives blend the timeless wisdom of Ayurveda with modern scientific advancements. We employ cutting-edge biotechnological tools to scientifically justify product mechanisms and substantiate health claims. Additionally, we conduct DNA fingerprinting of raw herbs to guarantee the authenticity and quality of our natural ingredients, complemented by routine analytical quality tests. Further, for geriatric consumers, we have introduced innovations such as OPADRY EZ film to facilitate easier tablet swallowing. We are also exploring advanced drug delivery systems, including sustained-release formulations and in-situ topical hydrogels.

Brahmi Cultivation using Hydroponic method

Sustainability in Action

We are committed to integrating sustainable and eco-friendly practices into our healthcare R&D initiatives. By adopting Good Agricultural Practices (GAP) and advanced farming techniques, we ensure our sourcing and cultivation methods are environmentally responsible. Further, in method development, we prioritise green approaches and avoid the use of solvents that pose health hazards.

Our focus remains on developing processes that are both environmentally friendly and energy-efficient, aligning with our ESG objectives. We also strive to minimise the use of non-renewable resources throughout our R&D operations.

Ensuring Sustainable and Ethical Sourcing of Rare Herbs

Our Bioresources Development (BRD) department plays a pivotal role in the cultivation and sustainable management of rare and endangered herbs. We cultivate Swertia Chirata, a critically endangered herb, as well as other species such as Kutki (Picrorhiza kurroa), which are at risk due to overexploitation.

We extensively support the cultivation and sustainability of RET (Rare, Endangered and Threatened) herbs to ensure their continued availability. These precious herbs are thoughtfully integrated into our various product formulations, allowing us to harness their unique therapeutic properties while promoting biodiversity and ecological balance.

Currently, the team oversees the cultivation of medicinal and aromatic crops on acres of land, involving farmers from various states across India. Key Highlights

We have significantly advanced our R&D capabilities through strategic collaborations and the adoption of new technologies. We have partnered with several reputed national institutes to develop novel drug delivery system platforms, thereby expanding the scope and efficacy of our product offerings. Notably, we conducted clinical trials in collaboration with AIIMS and NIMHANS for formulations designed to manage sleep disorders, utilising advanced techniques such as polysomnography to determine efficacy. In the phytopharma segment, we successfully completed phase 1 clinical trial for our pre-diabetic formulation. Additionally, we have implemented advanced analytical methods such as pollen estimation in honey and microscopic studies, further strengthening the scientific rigour behind our product development.

Our medical research team engaged in a range of scientific studies to validate and enhance the efficacy and safety of our products. We conducted various in-vitro bioassays, including enzymatic and cell-based assays, to support and generate new claims for our product portfolio. Collaborations with leading Indian institutions enabled us to perform in-vivo (animal) studies focused on both toxicity-adhering to OECD guidelines-and efficacy. During FY25, we initiated 12 clinical trials in collaboration with Ayurvedic Universities such as Uttarakhand Ayurved University, Dehradun, Dr. Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan Rajasthan University, Jodhpur, MGG Ayush University, Uttar Pradesh, along with clinical research organisations. This robust scientific validation further ensures that our product meets the highest standards of safety and effectiveness.

Information Technology

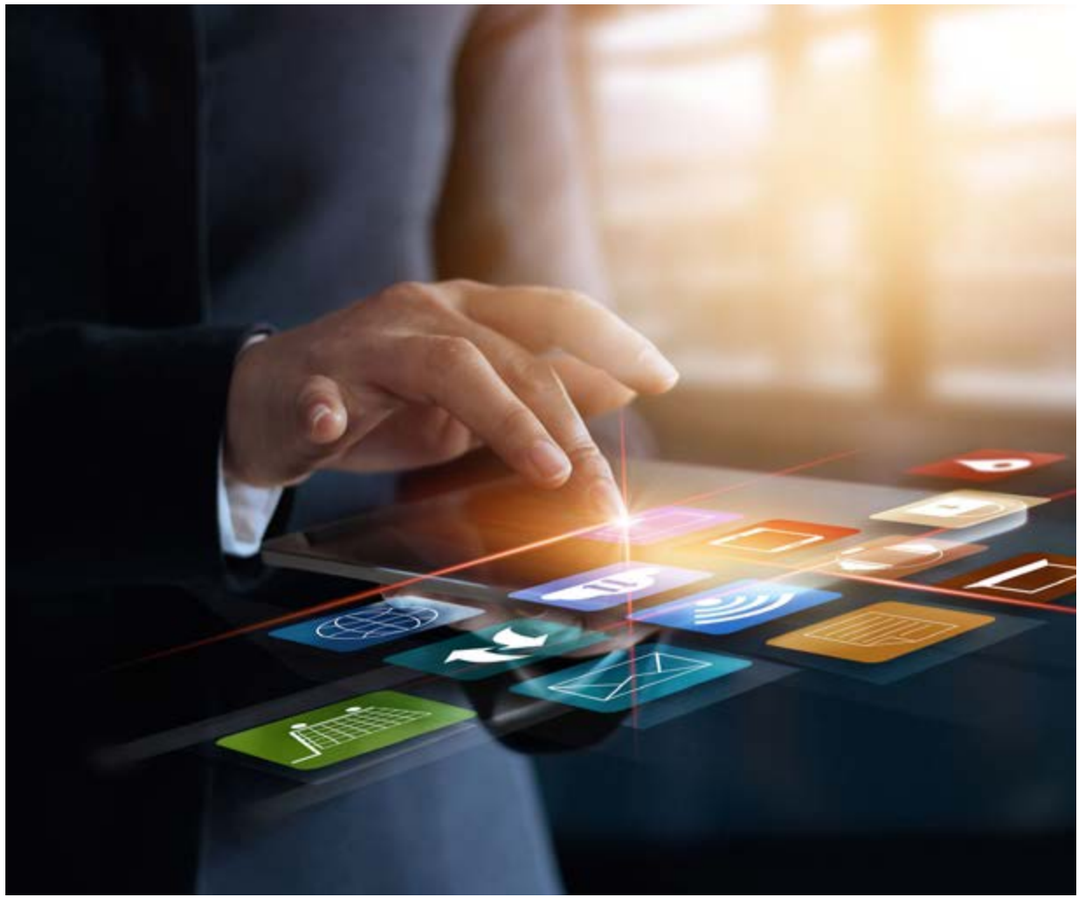

We harness the transformative power of technology to streamline operations, enhance agility and deliver lasting value for a dynamic future.

Innovations in artificial intelligence, machine learning, automation and biotechnology are accelerating at an exponential rate, driving profound changes across industries, economies and societies. As technology continues to evolve at breakneck speed, it is creating both remarkable opportunities and complex challenges on a global scale, making adaptability and foresight more important than ever.

At Emami, IT has remained a top priority and a key enabler for business progress. We have undertaken a comprehensive digital transformation journey with significant advancements in IT infrastructure, cloud adoption, cybersecurity, automation, analytics and the initial phases of AI and GenAI adoption.

During FY25, our focus has been on consolidating these gains and further aligning technology initiatives with business goals, both domestically and internationally.

As technology continues to evolve at breakneck speed, it is creating both remarkable opportunities and complex challenges on a global scale, making adaptability and foresight more important than ever.

Our IT Initiatives

01 Cloud Adoption

Over the years, we have moved our entire IT footprint to the cloud, specifically Microsoft Azure. Today, all our core applications-including SAP and our dealer management system-run on Azure. This move has streamlined our operations, allowing faster deployment of new applications and significant reduction in system performance issues.

02 Cybersecurity Enhancements

We have made consistent progress in strengthening our cybersecurity framework. Cloud-based, AI engine-enabled antivirus and monitoring systems have been implemented, transforming virus detection tool to a proactive system, based on behavioural and predictive pattern detection and prevention. These enhancements are supported by strict internal policies such as restricted internet access, application download controls and USB data transfer blocks. These measures have greatly reduced unauthorised downloads and improved our compliance framework. Our latest security audit showed a significant reduction in critical observations compared to previous cycles, demonstrating our enhanced resilience against external threats.

03 Infrastructure Modernisation

We are revamping our IT infrastructure to boost productivity and security. During FY25, we replaced majority of outdated, end-user devices with modern, faster and more secure machines. This upgrade has increased efficiency and helped us deploy security patches more effectively. In addition, we have revamped the network infrastructure in 90% of our physical locations, ensuring secure and reliable connectivity across our operations. The remaining 10% of locations are scheduled for completion this year.

04 Transformation through Automation

We are driving digital transformation by automating key business processes, with a strong focus on finance. Processes such as media spend approvals and telecast certificate management have been successfully automated, reducing manual intervention and minimising errors. In e-commerce operations, Robotic Process Automation (RPA) has been implemented to streamline order placement and fulfilment. Our internal IT team has upskilled and developed a couple of mobile apps to enhance operational efficiency, including solutions for Warehouse Management and RM/PM Specification tracking. Furthermore, we are actively building in-house RPA capabilities that enables us to scale and execute multiple automation initiatives concurrently.

05 Support Through Data Analytics and Command Centres

Our analytics journey has advanced significantly, moving beyond standard report automation to the creation of a sales command centre. This tool provides real-time sales analytics, fusing with our sales leadership's daily routine. The adoption of visual analytics tools is ongoing, which is anticipated to further enhance our ability to gain business insights quickly. Additionally, we have integrated AI/ML-powered product recommendation engines that guide our sales teams on optimal product placement at retail outlets. These analytics initiatives have improved visibility, accelerated decision-making and eliminated a majority of manual reporting.

Building on this foundation, we have launched a Procurement Command Centre to bring greater transparency and proactive insights into supplier performance, price movements and sourcing risks — empowering procurement teams to make smarter and faster decisions.

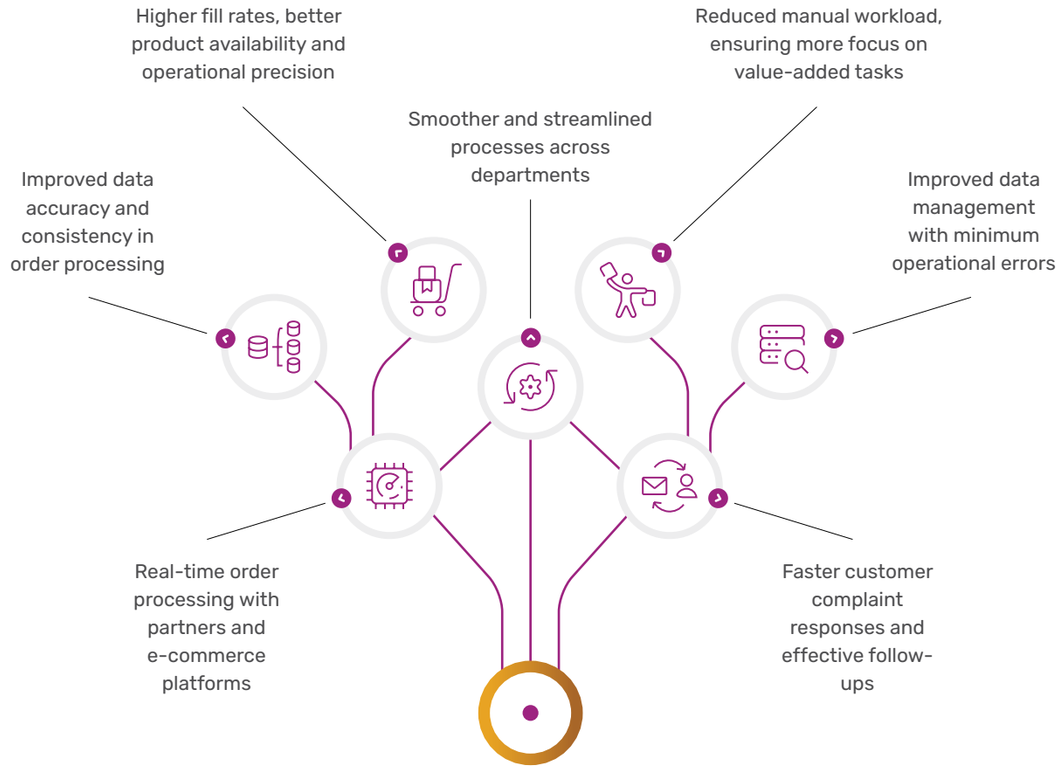

Additionally, Engineering Analytics dashboards have been developed to track critical operational KPIs such as machine uptime, maintenance cycles and process deviations, enabling sharper control and predictive maintenance planning.

We are also automating the CQA MIS ecosystem, streamlining quality reporting and compliance tracking to reduce manual interventions and ensure faster, more reliable insights into product quality.

06 Exploring AI and Gen AI

We are inspecting AI and GenAI solutions by engaging with various partners to identify and implement AI-driven tools, particularly in sales and operational areas. Our goal is to leverage these technologies to drive the next phase of our digital transformation and deliver even greater value.

Outcomes Achieved through Tech-Integration

OUTLOOK

The future is teeming with possibilities and we are prepared to stride ahead with confidence. We are strategically focusing on advancing material science to develop specialty chemicals and innovative active ingredients that will further strengthen our consumer care business. A key priority is the development of products that are completely free from Endocrine Disrupting Chemicals (EDCs), ensuring safer and cleaner solutions for our consumers.

We are also planning to enter the nutraceuticals segment with a range of products that are backed by robust scientific research and validated through comprehensive clinical trials. Further, we are clearing regulatory hurdles to facilitate our entry into newer markets for our healthcare business. This expansion will allow us to bring our trusted, science-backed products to a wider global audience, further establishing our leadership in innovative and responsible healthcare solutions.

We recognise that cybersecurity is an ongoing battle, especially with the rising sophistication of AI-driven threats. To address this, we aim to remain vigilant and strengthen our security framework. In addition to this, we will further strengthen our internal RPA capabilities to optimise cost and accelerate our operation processes.

We are also building a modern Data Lake foundation to seamlessly unify enterprise data across departments, enabling faster access to contextual insights and scalable AI and analytics. With the advancement of technology, we also aspire to harness AI and GenAI to sustain our positive growth momentum.

At Emami, we create value by empowering our people, building a thriving community where talent and passion lead the way.

Commitment to Transparency and Accountability

Transparency is central to Emami's corporate ethos, manifested through regular regulatory disclosures, including financial statements, Directors' remuneration and material events. Independent audits conducted by a global audit firm ensure robust financial and internal control reviews.

The Board, which includes active Independent Directors, oversees ethical operations and protects shareholder interests. We have dedicated committees to strengthen oversight of financial reporting, risk management and internal controls. We empower shareholders through active participation in Annual General Meetings (AGM), reinforcing accountability at all levels.

The CARE Policy Framework, that stands for Commitment to Accountability, Responsibility and Environment, represents Emami's strategic and holistic approach to ESG excellence. Deeply embedded in the Company's values and legacy of ethical conduct, the framework covers a set of focus areas which includes climate action, water stewardship, plastic and energy neutrality, diversity and inclusion, employee well-being and community empowerment. Complementing this strategic initiative are the various mandatory policies required under the SEBI Listing Regulations 2015 and the Companies Act 2013. The framework ensures that sustainability is not a parallel agenda but an integral part of business strategy. With measurable goals, board-level ESG oversight and cross-functional implementation, CARE drives long-term value creation while reinforcing our commitment to transparency, equity and environmental responsibility. It reflects our belief that true growth is achieved not just through profits, but through purpose-driven actions that benefit people and the planet alike.

Reaching Consumers Far and Wide through Effective Sales and Distribution

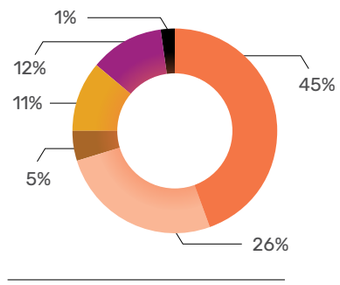

We believe distribution is not just about reaching destinations — it is about connecting every need with the right solution, everywhere, every time.

With the objective to reach every household and cater to the needs of each individual in India, we have expanded our distribution network to encompass all channels, from traditional retail and modern trade to digital platforms. By leveraging in-depth market insights, we have tailored our strategies to align the right products with the most effective channels for each region. This approach has enabled us to better serve the evolving demands of diverse geographic clusters, optimise route planning and maximise load capacities, ensuring efficient and timely delivery across our network.

Our Presence Across Channels

We have adapted to the evolving retail landscape by embracing an omni-channel approach, aligning our distribution, pricing and visibility strategies accordingly. We focus on combining online platforms, where competitive pricing plays a crucial role, with offline experiences that allow customers to touch and feel our products. We have thus expanded our product assortment and adjusted our selling approach to better cater to the preferences of young shoppers, thereby also enhancing our sales effectiveness.

Domestic Business Split

We are also investing in upskilling our frontline and backend team to manage the dynamics across all distribution channels. This ensures that we are fully equipped to deliver our products in an omni-channel environment, thereby supporting our growth ambitions.

Penetrating Every Corner of India

We are strategically strengthening our presence in General Trade (GT) Marts, adding of over 1,800 marts in FY25, bringing the total count to 5,600. Sales from GT Marts registered a robust growth of 45% in FY25. This expansion was driven by a focused approach in key states such as Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Bihar and Rajasthan, recognising their critical role in Emami's growth trajectory.

Our product availability and assortment are being closely tailored to meet the aspirations and rising demand in rural and Tier 2 and 3 markets, where we continue to build efficiencies into the distribution network and digital capabilities. Simultaneously, we have reallocated resources to enhance our urban distribution channels, with a renewed focus on revitalising the weighted stores. This dual approach ensures we remain agile and responsive to both rural opportunities and the evolving dynamics of urban retail.

Improving Product Visibility

Visibility remains a major priority for Emami, given that 70% of shopper decisions occur at the shelf. While shoppers continue to rely on physical stores for product discovery, even if they eventually purchase online, a 'hybrid selling' model is emerging where online and offline channels reinforce each other. We are focusing on improving fill rates to ensure orders are fulfilled promptly, and have introduced strategic changes in product formats such as value packs and refill packs to enhance in-store appeal and affordability. Our product assortment is also evolving, with specialised offerings tailored for younger buyers to drive engagement and conversion.

Emami One Field Services (EOFS)

It was launched to drive omni-channel merchandising across leading General Trade (GT) retail stores, including Marts, Prime Grocers and Chemists. Currently, 67% of Modern Trade (MT) business and around 16% of the GT retail business has been covered.

Project Phoenix

In line with our strategic direction of leading in urban markets by serving better stores, Project Phoenix was launched. This entailed optimising our GTM to seamlessly facilitate efficient sell-in and sell-out by our teams, further bolstered by strengthening people and digital capabilities. Project Phoenix also introduced enhanced efficiencies in our network of sub-stockists, with the aim of augmenting our product assortment, service frequency and in-store execution across key towns and stores.

Enhancing Modern Trade Channel

We have significantly expanded our modern trade coverage, focusing on building greater trade price confidence through stable pricing and stronger trade margins throughout FY25. This approach has strengthened our partnerships and fostered trust across the trade ecosystem. Active engagement at the top level has further deepened our relationships with key partners, ensuring collaborative growth and alignment with evolving market dynamics.

Integration of Technology

We are advancing digitisation across the organisation, allowing us to exchange business documents such as purchase orders and invoices electronically, making transactions faster and more efficient. Our supply chain is being transformed with the help of various digital tools.

For data analysis, we continue to deploy and adopt state-of-the-art tools, helping us to track and interpret business data more holistically and seamlessly. To monitor shelf performance, we leverage technology that helps us follow and enhance OSA, OOS, Share of Shelf and Display Compliance. This ensures our products are well-placed, available and visible across all channels, supporting our goal of maximising product visibility and availability.

Partnerships that Enable Us to Rise

Over the years, we have built and maintained strong relationships with our distributors by streamlining our supply chain management practices. We are now focused on further simplifying our systems to smooth distributor transactions, making it easier for them to collaborate with us for the long term.

We have been successful in maintaining a healthy relationship with many of our loyal distribution partners, who have experienced considerable growth in their journey with Emami. This growth reflects the effectiveness of our collaborative approach and the shared success of these enduring relationships.

What Natural Capital means to Emami

Optimisation of natural resource usage

We ensure to minimise the usage of energy, electricity and water in our operations to the highest extent possible

Sustainable manufacturing methods

We have adopted systems and technologies to help us reduce carbon emissions and reuse and recycle resources

Adopting renewable sources

We are using renewable energy sources to reduce our electricity usage and minimise our environmental footprint

Environmental conservation

We contribute positively to the environment through initiatives such as water harvesting, waste reduction and plantation drives

Minimising Emission

Our focus is firmly set on reducing our carbon footprint, powering progress today and safeguarding the planet for the future.

We are committed to proactive emission management by taking significant steps to reduce our carbon footprint by transitioning to fuels with lower carbon emissions across our operations. During the year, at our Pantnagar unit, we have converted our boiler fuel from High-Speed Diesel (HSD) to Piped Natural Gas (PNG). This transition not only ensures more complete combustion, resulting in higher efficiency and significantly lower maintenance costs, but also produces negligible amounts of sulphur and mercury.

At our Pacharia facility, we have adopted briquettes as the primary fuel source for boiler, further reducing emissions. Additionally, at our Vapi and Masat units, we have replaced Furnace Oil (FO) with Light Diesel Oil (LDO) and we have proposed transitioning from LDO to PNG at the Masat unit. To ensure accountability and continuous improvement, we consistently monitor and report our emissions data, using these insights to set and achieve ambitious emission reduction goals as part of our broader corporate sustainability initiatives.

Reduction in carbon emission

To significantly lower carbon footprint in our manufacturing processes, we have made substantial investment in solar energy infrastructure with a capacity of 1.52 MWp. By generating power from renewable sources such as solar and bio briquettes, alongside a shift to low emission fuels, we have successfully reduced our carbon emissions by 8.75%. We have planned substantial increase in renewable energy by installing an additional 2 MW solar capacity. Our target is to meet 30% of energy through renewable sources by FY27.

Optimising Water Usage

We are committed to turning every drop into a ripple of positive change, ensuring water continues to sustain life today and for generations to come.

We have focused to optimise our water usage across our operations by installing water efficient fixtures and appliances that significantly reduce water consumption at the source. Our regular maintenance programme ensures that leaks and drips are promptly identified and repaired, preventing unnecessary wastage. We have also established clear targets to reduce water usage and consistently monitor our progress to ensure accountability.

Treated water is reused in various processes, including boiler operations as well as for gardening and washing, maximising utility of every drop. Additionally, we have deployed water metering and monitoring systems to quickly identify and address areas of excess usage.

Rainwater Harvesting

Emami has implemented rainwater-harvesting initiatives as part of its commitment to environmental sustainability. We have established rainwater-harvesting systems at several of our manufacturing plants to conserve water and reduce dependency on external water sources. These systems are designed to capture and store rainwater for internal use or routed it towards aquifer recharge, benefitting the local communities.

During FY25, we launched our Rainwater Harvesting Project with the goal to reduce groundwater usage and use water efficiently. Despite challenges such as limited space and high investment costs, we developed innovative solutions by channelling rainwater directly to our primary storage tank and optimising its utilisation. We also leveraged internal talent to implement the system in-house. Finally, we were successful in setting up a rainwater reservoir and filtration system, repurposing existing infrastructure and equipment. These initiatives not only help recharge groundwater and promote responsible water management but also delivers significant cost savings.

Reducing Waste Generation

We deliver on our promise to transform today's waste into tomorrow's resources as we believe that a cleaner world begins with mindful choices.

Our waste management strategy is guided by 5R approach

During the year, we implemented comprehensive recycling programmes for paper, plastic and other recyclable materials, while encouraging employees to minimise paper usage and shift towards digital documentation. We also focused towards promoting the use of reusable and sustainable packaging materials to further decrease our environmental impact.

Additionally, we have established dedicated scrap yards for the safe storage of waste according to the waste category. We continue to work working with authorised vendors for the proper disposal and recycling of waste.

OUTLOOK

Our vision is rooted in regenerative growth, where business success is aligned with environmental renewal. As we move forward, we aim to deepen our stewardship of natural resources by accelerating the transition to low-carbon operations, scaling up the use of renewable energy and adopting nature-positive practices across our value chain. We are committed to enhancing biodiversity, achieving water neutrality and embedding circular economy principles in our product and packaging innovation. Through data-driven environmental governance and strategic collaborations, we aspire to create long-term ecological value, ensuring that nature not only sustains us today but also flourishes for future generations.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Global Economic Overview

The global economy's resilience came to the fore in CY 2024, as it navigated a turbulent economic landscape comprising geopolitical tensions, trade uncertainties and alteration in monetary policies. Global economic growth was 3.3% in CY 2024, with advanced economies facing significant challenges, while emerging markets continued to be key drivers of global expansion. Strong domestic demand, an uptick in foreign investments and a gradual recovery in global trade helped Emerging Markets and Developing Economies (EMDEs) to grow at an estimated rate of 4.3% in CY 2024.

Global inflationary pressure eased during CY 2024, with a decline to 5.7%. The decline is expected to be largely driven by stabilising energy and food prices and slight easing of supply chain disruptions. As inflationary pressures moderated, Central Banks around the world began easing monetary policies, which helped to improve business confidence and consumer spending. The Federal Reserve in December 2024, cut interest rates by 25 basis points, signalling progress towards price stability. Global trade volumes recovered in CY 2024, with an estimated increase of 3.4%. This was driven by strong export performance from the US, China and the East Asian economies. However, the recent implementation of tariffs by the US government poses a potential threat to the stability of global trade.

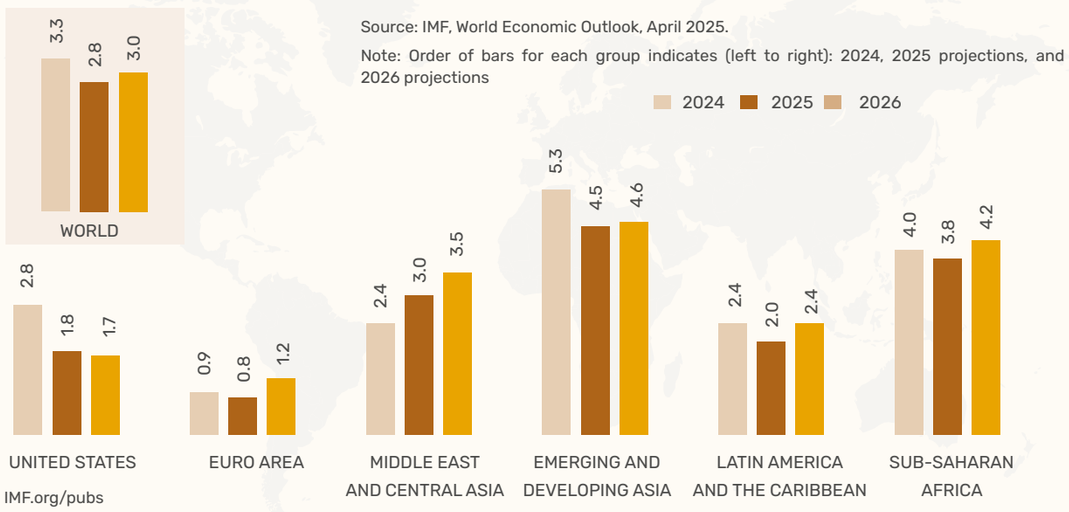

Outlook

The global economic outlook for CY 2025 and beyond remains cautiously optimistic, with global growth projected at 2.8% for CY 2025 and 3.0% for CY 2026[1]. This growth is expected to be driven by resilient consumer demand, strategic policy measures and ongoing structural reforms.

Growth in advanced economies is projected to be modest at a rate of 1.4% in CY 2025. Emerging Market and Developing Economies (EMDEs) are expected to sustain their position as drivers of global growth, with a projected expansion rates of 3.7% in CY 2025 and 3.9% in CY 2026. The slowdown is expected to be more pronounced in countries most impacted by recent trade measures, such as China, which has experienced significant downgrades in its growth outlook.

Global inflation is expected to continue on its downward trajectory and is projected to reach 4.3% in CY 2025, with a further decline to 3.6% in CY 2026. Decline in inflation coupled with improved liquidity is expected to drive investments. Augmented business confidence and a favourable investment climate is expected to drive growth in both advanced and developing economies.

Indian Economic Overview

India's economy sustained its robust performance in FY25, demonstrating resilience amid global uncertainties and emerged as one of the fastest-growing major economies. The country has registered a GDP growth rate of 6.5%[2], primarily driven by strong domestic consumption, sustained government capital expenditure and steady growth in the construction, services, manufacturing and trade sectors.

Private consumption sustained its position as a key driver of growth, supported by a growing middle class, improved labour market conditions and rising urban demand. The Government has allocated ₹ 11.11 lakh crores towards capital expenditure in the Union Budget for FY25. This reflects the government's consistent emphasis on infrastructure-led growth. Investment momentum was further fuelled by improved credit flow and rising investor confidence.

Over the course of the reporting year, inflationary pressure gradually eased with inflation declining to 3.34%[3] in March 2025, the lowest in five years. This decline was largely attributed to a decline in food prices. Inflation remained within the Reserve Bank of India's target, averaging around 4.1%[4] during the latter part of the year. During the year under review, the Reserve Bank of India adjusted its monetary policy stance by implementing consecutive repo rate cuts, bring the rate down to 5.50%. This move is expected to augment liquidity and enhance credit flow in the market.

India's external sector showed mixed trends. Exports grew marginally to $ 395.6 billion, while imports rose by 5.7% to $ 656.7 billion from April 2024 to February 2025. Crude oil import dependency increased to 88.2%, driven by rising energy needs, thereby heightening vulnerability to global price fluctuations[5].

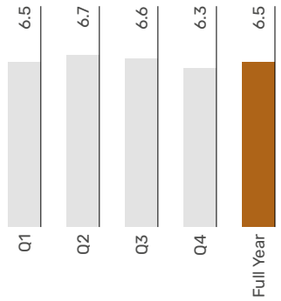

The Indian rupee, impacted by global currency trends and domestic demand, opened the year at ₹ 83.35 and closed at ₹ 85.46 against the US dollar on March 31, 2025, reflecting a moderate depreciation.

Outlook

India is poised to sustain its trajectory of growth, with a projected growth rate of 6.5% in FY26, significantly outpacing global and regional peers[6]. Despite the uncertainties and threats posed by global trade challenges, India's robust domestic demand and government initiatives will continue to drive its economic momentum. Further, the government is closely monitoring the tariff scenario and is calibrating its response. India's inflation rate is projected to remain stable in the range of 4.0% to 4.2% for FY26, aligning with the Reserve Bank of India's target of 4%. This moderation in inflation provides the RBI with further room to implement rate cuts, which will augment economic growth and consumer spending. Inflation rates are expected to decline further if the current uncertainty regarding tariffs reaches clarity.

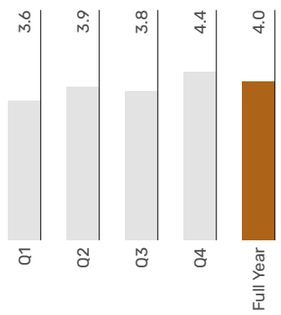

The country's investment climate remains strong, supported by rising private investments, favourable financing conditions and a rapidly expanding middle-class population. The recent revision in tax slabs is expected to further enhance disposable incomes, especially among the urban populace. This will result in higher consumption expenditure, fuelling economic activity in urban India. Overall, the economy is strategically positioned for sustained growth and is poised to play an even bigger role in the global landscape.

India's Fast-Moving Consumer Goods (FMCG) sector

India's Fast-Moving Consumer Goods (FMCG) industry showed dynamic growth on the back of evolving consumer behaviour, expanding discretionary income and rising urban population. The industry is expected to grow 7%-9% by revenue in FY25 and reach an estimated $ 132 billion[7]. This growth momentum is expected to be fuelled by the widened accessibility of e-commerce channels, rising rural penetration and a shifting emphasis towards convenience-driven consumption.

Rural markets, which contribute approximately 40% of the overall FMCG revenue have shown resilience. These markets are witnessing a recovery in volumes, with consumption exceeding that of urban markets in recent quarters. This recovery has been aided by favourable monsoon conditions and an uptick in agricultural productivity. Conversely, the urban segment, which contributes around 60% of the sector's revenue, has been impacted by elevated levels of inflation, heightened interest rates and subdued wage growth.

The rising demand of packaged food and personal care products is propelling the growth of the FMCG industry. In addition, this demand highlights the shifting lifestyle of consumers and a growing brand consciousness. A growing emphasis on convenience, particularly time-efficient solutions have emerged as catalysts for retail expansion. New generation retail channels such as quick - commerce is accelerating now making up over a third of e-commerce sales. This trend is expected to continue in the years ahead.

The mass FMCG segment has been considerably affected by severe food inflation and heightened competition among local and regional players. Despite the presence of these products in the rural regions, rising inflationary pressure have cut consumption to a significant degree. Notwithstanding these challenges, the FMCG sector remains key to the Indian economy, contributing approximately 3% to the country's GDP and providing employment to nearly three million people.[8]

Outlook

Despite facing turbulence, the FMCG sector is poised for a positive turnaround in the years ahead. The sector is starting to exhibit signs of recovery after experiencing subdued growth due to high inflation, weak urban demand and the escalating cost of raw materials. Key factors, such as easing inflationary pressures and a gradual recovery in demand contribute to an optimistic outlook, hinting a potential rebound in the FMCG sector.[9]

India's economic trajectory is also playing a crucial role in shaping the outlook for the FMCG industry in India. India is set to become the third-largest economy by 2028, with consumption remaining a vital contributor and exceeding 50% of the GDP. This economic growth will serve as a strong tailwind for the FMCG sector, driven by the rising aspirations of India's middle class and the increasing purchasing power. Rural demand, traditionally a significant driver of the FMCG market, is expected to show a marked improvement, supported by favourable monsoon conditions in FY26. Further, the tax benefits announced in the Union Budget will offer additional support to consumers.

Opportunities

Government Schemes and Digitisation

Initiatives such as 'Make in India' and 'Atmanirbhar Bharat' are encouraging domestic manufacturing and reducing the country's reliance on imports. These programmes are actively supporting the growth of the Indian FMCG sector by encouraging local production and incentivising manufacturers. By implementing these measures, the programmes are promoting a self-reliant and strong manufacturing landscape. Expedited digitisation of the value chain is reshaping the operations of the FMCG companies. Integration of data analytics, AI-driven demand forecasting and automated supply chains are augmenting efficiency and responsiveness.

Increasing Disposable Income

Steady economic growth coupled with rising middle-class aspirations and augmented discretionary spending has led to a shift in consumer preferences towards branded, value-added and premium products. Higher disposable income also leads to increased spending on lifestyle-oriented categories such as personal care, wellness and packaged foods.

Increasing Urbanisation

Rapid urbanisation and lifestyle changes are reshaping consumption patterns. With more people residing in cities and urban centres, demand for convenient, ready to use products are on the rise. Greater brand awareness and digital connectivity among urban consumers are paving the way to targeted marketing, direct to consumer models and omnichannel strategies.

Deepening Rural distribution

Rural India is increasingly contributing to the overall FMCG growth. Widening distribution networks in these regions remains a key priority and presents a vital opportunity to FMCG companies. The focus is shifting from simply expanding into more rural areas to deepening market penetration within them, with an emphasis on ensuring consistent product availability and strong brand visibility, even in remote and underserved markets.

Portfolio Premiumisation

Consumers are inclining towards premium, health-conscious and value-added products. Heightened health awareness, aspirational shifts in lifestyle and elevated disposable income among the urban middle class are the key drivers of this trend. Products that offer superior quality, functional benefits and differentiated experiences are gaining traction.

Threats

Regulatory Compliance and Quality Control

The FMCG companies must adhere to stringent regulatory standards involving food safety, product labelling, environmental standards and advertising norms. Compliance failure can lead to penalties, product recalls and reputational damage.

Supply Chain Disruption

The FMCG sector is highly dependent on a complex supply chain that includes raw material sourcing, manufacturing, packaging and last mile delivery. Disruptions caused by geopolitical events, climate change, inflationary pressures, or transportation bottlenecks can severely impact production cycles, product availability and product costs.

Economic Uncertainty

Prolonged economic slowdown or persistently high interest rates may constrain household spending, especially in rural and semi-urban regions. Additionally, external factors such as global trade tensions and currency fluctuations can influence import-export dynamics and alter cost structures.

Directors' Report

Dear Shareholders,

It gives me great pleasure to present to you the performance of your Company along with audited accounts for the financial year ended March 31, 2025. This report covers the financial results and other developments during the financial year from April 1, 2024 to March 31, 2025, in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, ("the Act") and the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 ("SEBI Listing Regulations").

1. Operational Review

As we commemorated Emami's 50th anniversary, reflecting on five decades of delivering happiness to consumers globally, we are pleased to report a year of noteworthy achievements. This milestone year commenced on a positive note, characterised by sequential improvements in demand trends and the successful realisation of our strategic initiatives. The resilience and innovative spirit that have long defined Emami remain central to our success and continue to guide our path towards a prosperous future.

Throughout FY25, rural demand exhibited gradual recovery, with signs of positive momentum emerging across various markets. The country experienced its hottest summer in 14 years, resulting in a robust demand for summer products. However, discretionary consumption was notably impacted by rising food prices and subdued consumer confidence. High food inflation placed significant pressure on mass consumers, while overall consumption trends for the year remained largely consistent with previous periods. Rural markets demonstrated remarkable resilience, buoyed by favourable monsoon conditions and a strong harvest. In contrast, urban demand continued to show signs of weakness, further compounded by food inflation and challenges within the retail and wholesale trade sectors. Additionally, commodity price volatility impacted overall FMCG volumes, and the delayed arrival of winter weather created further complications for seasonal categories.

Notwithstanding these macroeconomic challenges, Emami's core domestic business exhibited robust growth during FY25, achieving an 8% increase in value and 5% in volume. Our flagship brands performed strongly, with notable contributions from Navratna and Dermicool, which grew by 18%, and BoroPlus, which experienced a 14% growth. The Healthcare range expanded by 12%, while the Pain Management segment delivered a modest growth of 1%. However, the Male Grooming range saw a 4% decline, and Kesh King registered a 9% decrease. The slowdown in discretionary consumption adversely impacted these two segments.

In FY25, we also completed the acquisition of the remaining stake in Helios Lifestyle Pvt. Ltd., which operates under the brand, "The Man Company" from the previous promoters. While this acquisition positions us for long-term growth, the transition and changes in management resulted in a temporary decline in revenues for The Man Company.

Furthermore, the competitive landscape, with increased investments and promotional discounts from peers, had a negative impact on sales, leading to a 5% decline in strategic investments for the year.

To address the challenges faced by Male Grooming, Kesh King and The Man Company brands, we undertook several strategic initiatives. One of the significant moves was the rebranding of 'Fair and Handsome' to 'Smart and Handsome', which effectively redefined the brand's market positioning. This shift broadened the brand's portfolio, introducing a holistic male grooming solution encompassing face, body, and hair care. The rebranding significantly expanded the Total Addressable Market by over 8 times. Furthermore, we partnered with BCG to refine Kesh King's strategy across brand positioning, variant development, trade marketing, digital initiatives, and quick commerce. For The Man Company, we focused on increasing marketplace share, enhancing quick commerce, executing a comprehensive brand revamp, and optimising performance-based spending to drive profitability. We are confident that these measures will yield a positive turnaround in FY26.

Innovation remained a key pillar of our strategy in FY25, with the launch of over 25 new products in our domestic business, including 11 on our Direct-to-Consumer (D2C) platform, Zanducare. Our digital-first portfolio continued to gain traction, growing by 59% year-on-year, with over 80% of Zanducare's sales now derived from this segment. Products launched in the past two years now contribute approximately 50% of total Zanducare sales, demonstrating the strong consumer response to our digital offerings.

On the distribution front, organised channels—including Modern Trade, e-Commerce, and Institutional sales—delivered solid results. These channels contributed 27.6% to our domestic revenues, marking a 140 basis point improvement over the previous year. The organised channels grew at nearly double the rate of our overall domestic business, with a growth rate of 13%.

In FY25, Emami's international operations faced a range of challenges, particularly in markets like Bangladesh, where political instability created temporary disruptions. While the situation improved following the lows of July and August, persistent issues such as rising inflation, depleting foreign exchange reserves, and political uncertainty continued to impact business performance. Nevertheless, our international business grew by 4% in INR terms and 5% in Constant Currency during FY25, demonstrating our resilience in these challenging markets. We remain confident in our ability to maintain our market share despite the ongoing geopolitical and economic challenges.

From a financial perspective, Emami delivered a solid performance in FY25. Consolidated revenues grew by 6%, reaching ₹ 3,809.2 crores. Benign raw material prices, combined with judicious price increases, contributed to a 100 basis point expansion in our gross margins, which now stand at 68.6%. EBITDA grew by 8% to ₹ 1,025 crores, with EBITDA margins improving by 40 basis points to 26.9%. Profit Before Tax (PBT) increased by 13% to ₹ 894 crores, and Profit After Tax (PAT) grew by 11% to ₹807 crores.

In alignment with our commitment to maximizing shareholder value, we declared two interim dividends of ₹ 4 each and a special interim dividend amounting to ₹ 2 per share totalling ₹ 10 per share (i.e. 1000% of face value), translating to a pay-out of ₹ 436.5 crores.

Sustainability remained a key focus for Emami throughout FY25. We made significant strides in reducing our carbon footprint, with energy consumption decreasing by 12% compared to FY22 (flat over previous year). Water consumption also showed a reduction of 25% from FY22 (reduction of 9% over previous year), underscoring our commitment to responsible environmental stewardship. Furthermore, Emami remained 100% compliant with Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) regulations, recycling 10365 metric tons of plastic waste during the year. Through our Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives, we positively impacted the lives of 6.8 lakh individuals, reinforcing our commitment to social welfare and community development.

As we continue to focus on expanding our distribution network, leveraging favourable seasonality, and investing in key brands, we are well-positioned to deliver robust growth. We remain committed to driving sustainable, volume-led growth, capturing market share, and delivering long-term value to our shareholders.

26 Overview of the entity's material responsible business conduct issues

Please indicate material responsible business conduct and sustainability issues pertaining to environmental and social matters that present a risk or an opportunity to your business, rationale for identifying the same, approach to adapt or mitigate the risk along-with its financial implications, as per the following format

S. No.	Material issue identified	Indicate whether risk or opportunity (R/O)	Rationale for identifying the risk/opportunity	In case of risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Positive or negative financial implications
1	Waste Management and Circular Economy	Risk and Opportunity	Stricter EPR norms and other regulations increase costs for licensing, audits, and reporting. Extensive use of plastic and mixed materials adds complexity to waste management. Investing in eco-friendly packaging drives innovation in R&D and enhances supply chain efficiency, positioning Emami as a sustainability-focused brand. Proactive compliance with environmental regulations strengthens brand credibility, builds consumer trust, and opens access to environmentally conscious markets.	Emami adopts the 5R principles—Record, Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Reject—to enhance resource efficiency. Multiple projects have been initiated to explore use of waste productively by upcycling and alternate uses. Since FY2023–24, Emami has ensured 100% recycling of plastic waste, achieving Plastic Neutrality and compliance under the Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) framework of the CPCB. We have started use of bio-degradable/ compostable polybags in our secondary packaging to reduce our reliance on plastics and move towards sustainable packaging. We actively engage with government bodies, NGOs, and industry partners to drive scalable, circular solutions across our value chain.	Positive – a) Replacing plastic in secondary packaging with compostable/bio-degradable materials will lead to cost saving b) Consumers are increasingly aware of the environmental impact of their purchases and are more likely to support companies that prioritize sustainability. c) Upcycling/co-processing waste reduces waste disposal costs. Negative – Adhering to the increasingly stringent environmental and waste management regulations necessitate investments. Non-compliance could lead to fines, legal actions, and reputational damage.
2	Water and Effluents	Risk	A significant reliance on groundwater exposes our operations to potential disruptions due to depleting reserves and increasing regulatory scrutiny. Emami has one manufacturing unit in water-stressed region, making water supply disruptions a potential risk to production continuity. Increasing pressure on conventional water sources due to population growth and climate variability may result in inconsistent water availability, impacting operational continuity.	Focus on rainwater harvesting systems to recharge groundwater and reduce reliance on freshwater sources. This aligns with our goal of sustainable water usage across operations. Through advanced effluent treatment plants (ETPs), we ensure treated water exceeds statutory parameters, which is then repurposed for various operational needs, reducing freshwater consumption. We are working towards achieving Zero Liquid Discharge (ZLD) across all manufacturing sites, ensuring no wastewater is discharged, and promoting a closed-loop system We constantly monitor the vulnerability of water sources in high water stress areas to implement targeted conservation measures and replenish the water sources.	Negative – Investments are required in wastewater treatment infrastructure, rainwater harvesting systems, and water-efficient technologies. These capital and operational expenditures have a negative impact. Positive - In the long term, these efforts enhance water resilience, reduce dependency on external sources. Effective water stewardship improves operational efficiency and cost.

S. No.	Material issue identified	Indicate whether risk or opportunity (R/O)	Rationale for identifying the risk/opportunity	In case of risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Positive or negative financial implications
3	Energy Management & Climate Change	Risk and Opportunity	Climate change-induced erratic weather patterns are having an unpredictable impact on cultivated and natural medicinal herbs, which are essential raw materials for Emami's products. Cost of generating and procuring energy is a key expense for Emami. Increase in energy consumption and rising costs of energy pose a risk. However, projects to drive efficiency and migration to better sources of energy provide an opportunity. Extreme weather conditions, such as floods and droughts, can disrupt Emami's supply chain and manufacturing operations, leading to potential production delays and increased costs. A growing consumer awareness of climate change can impact consumer preferences for products with lesser climate impact.	To mitigate energy-related risks, we are committed to systematically reducing our energy intensity year-on-year through operational excellence, process optimization, and continuous monitoring. All manufacturing facilities will implement a robust Energy Management System by FY26, enabling structured performance tracking, accountability, and targeted improvements in energy use. Infrastructure and equipment upgrades form a core part of our strategy. We will include energy performance criteria in all new equipment purchases and facility designs to ensure long-term energy efficiency. Key initiatives such as upgrading to LED lighting, adopting energy-efficient HVAC systems, optimizing compressed air systems, and installing waste heat recovery systems will further enhance our operational energy profile. To address climate risk, we aim to reduce absolute Scope 1 and Scope 2 GHG emissions by increasing the share of renewable energy across our operations, transitioning to low-emission technologies, and implementing energy efficiency measures wherever feasible. Our climate mitigation strategy also extends across the value chain. We will actively engage suppliers and partners to align with our climate targets, foster innovation, and promote sustainable practices. We shall integrate climate considerations into corporate strategy, capital investments, and business continuity planning. We are committed to strengthening operational and supply chain resilience against climate risks, collaborating with industry peers for collective action, and maintaining transparency through regular disclosures on climate-related risks, progress, and opportunities.	Negative – Investments in low-carbon technologies, renewable energy systems, and climate mitigation strategies entail substantial upfront costs. Additionally, climate- related disruptions in raw material availability and operations may impact financial performance. Positive – Solar power being generated at our locations is cheaper than grid power, providing savings while improving climate action. Cleaner fuels like PNG, bio-briquettes etc, offers higher fuel efficiency improving overall operational efficiency.

S. No.	Material issue identified	Indicate whether risk or opportunity (R/O)	Rationale for identifying the risk/opportunity	In case of risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Positive or negative financial implications
4	Human Rights	Risk	Evolving human rights regulations may pose compliance challenges in the supply chain, affecting operations and reputation. Growing stakeholder focus on ethical sourcing heightens the risk of reputational damage if standards are not upheld. Any lapse in human rights practices can erode consumer trust and brand equity. Increasing investor expectations on ethical conduct may impact access to capital and long-term value creation.	Emami is committed to upholding human rights across its operations and value chain. Our Human Rights Policy, embedded within the broader ESG framework and reinforced by our Code of Conduct, ensures zero tolerance for violations. A formal grievance redressal mechanism is in place to promptly address concerns, reinforcing transparency, accountability, and stakeholder trust	Negative – Any instance of violation can result in significant reputational damage and financial repercussions for the organization, impacting stakeholder trust and long-term sustainability.
5	Community Welfare	Opportunity	Proactive community engagement fosters long-term stakeholder trust and reinforces the brand's social license to operate. Changing perceptions around the social obligations of corporates presents an opportunity to lead with purpose and create lasting impact.	NA	Neutral – Community welfare is socially significant and delivers long-term benefits such as enhanced brand reputation and strengthened stakeholder relationships; however, these outcomes are intangible and not directly quantifiable in monetary terms.
6	Occupational Health and Safety	Risk	Workplace accidents and health-related incidents can result in substantial direct costs such as medical expenses and compensation claims, as well as indirect costs like productivity loss, legal liabilities, and equipment damage. Inadequate training or failure to adopt best OHS practices may lead to operational disruptions, compliance violations, or workplace closures. Evolving regulatory expectations and growing stakeholder scrutiny make it imperative to maintain robust OHS standards to protect our workforce and uphold brand trust.	We integrate OHS into strategic planning, facility design, procurement, and daily operations. Health and safety considerations are embedded into every business process, ensuring that risks are addressed at the source. This holistic approach helps in proactively safeguarding employee wellbeing and minimizing disruptions due to workplace hazards or incidents. We maintain full compliance with applicable OHS laws, regulations, and standards across all geographies. A structured compliance mechanism ensures timely updates and adherence to evolving norms. This minimizes legal exposure, fosters a culture of accountability, and reinforces Emami's commitment to responsible and ethical operations.	Negative – OHS risks, if not proactively managed, can lead to workplace injuries, illnesses, or fatalities. These incidents can result in significant financial burdens including medical expenses, workers' compensation claims, and lost productivity. Furthermore, such events may affect employee morale, increase legal costs, and lead to heightened scrutiny, adversely impacting both the brand reputation and long-term financial performance.

S. No.	Material issue identified	Indicate whether risk or opportunity (R/O)	Rationale for identifying the risk/opportunity	In case of risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Positive or negative financial implications
			Frequent or serious safety lapses can adversely affect employee morale, retention, and overall operational efficiency, posing long-term reputational and financial risks	Every site has a dedicated EHS officer who ensures a robust system is in place to identify hazards, assess associated risks, and implement effective control measures. Regular audits and safety inspections ensure that risks are addressed promptly. This preventive approach is designed to eliminate incidents before they occur and establish a strong foundation of safety resilience. We have innovatively used technology that allows employees, workers, visitors or anyone at the plant to seamlessly log hazards, ensuring swift action and enhanced transparency. Each employee undergoes a minimum of one Occupational Health & Safety (OHS) training program, with a targeted duration exceeding 2 man-days, reinforcing compliance, awareness, and a proactive safety culture throughout the organization.
7	Employee Well Being	Risk And Opportunity	Employees are central to operational efficiency and long-term success. Poor well-being can result in decreased productivity, increased absenteeism, higher attrition rates, and potential mental and physical health concerns. These issues not only affect individual performance but can also disrupt team dynamics and harm organizational morale. Additionally, neglecting employee well-being poses reputational risks and may affect our ability to attract and retain top talent.	We are committed to maintaining a safe, inclusive, and supportive workplace to reduce risks related to stress, accidents, and mental health concerns. Regular safety audits, ergonomic assessments, and mental health programs are conducted to proactively identify and mitigate workplace hazards and wellbeing issues. We implement preventive and promotive health initiatives such as periodic health check-ups, access to medical facilities, counselling support, and fitness programs. These measures help in early detection of health risks, encourage healthy habits, and minimize productivity loss due to illness or burnout. Regular training sessions on stress management, work-life balance, and respectful workplace behaviour- are conducted to build awareness and equip employees with coping strategies. These efforts foster a culture of psychological safety, reduce employee attrition,	Positive - Investing in employee well-being will enhance productivity, reduce absenteeism, and improve retention, Ultimately contributing to long-term financial growth and operational efficiency. Negative- Ignoring employee well-being could damage Emami's reputation, result in legal liabilities, and incur additional costs.

S. No.	Material issue identified	Indicate whether risk or opportunity (R/O)	Rationale for identifying the risk/opportunity	In case of risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Positive or negative financial implications

Feedback mechanisms such as surveys and suggestion systems enable real-time course correction. Regular policy reviews ensure that welfare practices evolve in line with employee expectations and emerging risks.
8	Corporate Governance & Business Ethics	Risk and Opportunity	Lapses in corporate governance can lead to corruption, negligence, and fraud, damaging Emami's reputation and eroding stakeholder trust. Inadequate governance policies can result in moral and ethical issues, affecting relationships with stakeholders and jeopardizing long-term success. Strong governance frameworks foster transparency, accountability, and compliance, providing a foundation for long-term business growth and stakeholder trust. The company emphasizes ethical marketing and transparency in product claims, fostering trust among consumers and stakeholders. Emami is dedicated to improving the socio-economic well-being of underserved communities through its CSR projects, promoting self-reliance and contributing to sustainable development.	Negative- Weak corporate governance can lead to financial irregularities, regulatory penalties, legal costs, and loss of investor confidence. It may also impact credit ratings and increase the cost of capital, directly affecting profitability and long-term financial stability. II. Set measurable objectives and targets for safety performance.

III. Continuously monitor key performance indicators (KPIs) like safety engagement, occupational Injury frequency rate, safety audit score, near misses.

C) Culture of Safety:

I. Implement behaviour-based safety programs that encourage safe work practices and risk identification.

II. Provide regular training to all employees (including contract workers) on hazard awareness, safe work procedures, and emergency response protocols.

III. Foster open communication and encourage employees to report safety concerns without fear of reprisal.

IV. Conduct focus activity like National Safety Week, National Fire Service Week, World Environment Day etc.

D) Additional Consideration:

I. Establish a system for employees to report work-related hazards, SBO and remove themselves from unsafe situations.

II. Partner with suppliers and contractors to ensure adherence to Emami's OH&S standards.

III. Recognize and reward safe work practices and employee contributions to safety improvement.

b. What are the processes used to identify work-related hazards and assess risks on a routine and non-routine basis by the entity?

At Emami, ensuring a safe and risk-free work environment is integral to our operational philosophy. We adopt a preventive and predictive approach to hazard identification, which underpins our steadfast vision of achieving Zero Harm across all our facilities.

A structured Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (HIRA) is conducted for every process, enabling us to proactively recognize potential risks and implement control measures. For non-routine tasks or operations involving elevated risk, we enforce a stringent Work Permit System, issued only after a thorough review and risk validation to safeguard personnel and assets.

To foster a culture of collective responsibility, we encourage all employees, contractors, and visitors to remain vigilant and report any unsafe conditions or practices they observe. To streamline this, we have deployed a digitally enabled Hazard Reporting Mechanism across our manufacturing units. Each zone within the factory is equipped with QR codes that allow individuals to instantly report hazards via a mobile-friendly form.

Once a report is submitted, the system automatically initiates a workflow that includes risk assessment, action planning, and closure monitoring. This digital integration not only improves efficiency but also reinforces accountability and responsiveness in our safety management process.

Through these initiatives, we continue to build a robust safety culture, driven by innovation, awareness, and a shared commitment to protect people and the workplace.

c. Whether you have processes for workers to report work-related hazards and to remove themselves from such risks. (Y/N)

Yes, Emami has well-established and structured systems that ensure every worker can report any identified hazards or potential risks without hesitation. Once a hazard is reported, it is systematically assessed, and appropriate mitigation measures are implemented in a timely manner to eliminate or control the risk.

We have a robust mechanism for the reporting of all work-related hazards, which also allows employees to proactively suggest improvements. Every worker, regardless of role or designation, receives comprehensive training on hazard identification, response protocols, and safe work practices. This enables them to recognize unsafe conditions early and respond appropriately.

To promote active participation, our employees are regularly engaged in safety discussions, toolbox talks, and awareness programs. Each of our manufacturing sites has a dedicated Safety Committee, chaired by the Plant Head and comprising representatives from both management and the shop floor workforce. This committee functions as a collaborative platform for open communication between workers and management, reinforcing a culture of shared responsibility in maintaining workplace safety and health standards.

The Safety Committee meets at defined intervals to evaluate the effectiveness of current safety practices, identify gaps, and deliberate on incidents or near-misses. These reviews help in fine-tuning existing systems and protocols. Based on their observations, the committee proposes enhanced safety measures, updates to procedures, or adoption of industry best practices, thereby continually elevating the safety performance of the facility.

Through these efforts, we aim to create a proactive safety culture that is inclusive, transparent, and resilient ensuring a secure and healthy work environment for all.

d. Do the employees have access to non-occupational medical and healthcare services? (Yes/ No)

Yes, most workers are covered under the Employees' State Insurance Scheme (ESIC), established under the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948. This comprehensive social security system provides access to a range of medical and healthcare services, not limited to occupational illnesses or injuries.

Under ESIC, employees are entitled to non-occupational medical benefits including treatment for general illnesses, maternity care, and long-term medical support. 10. Briefly describe the waste management practices adopted in your establishments. Describe the strategy adopted by your Company to reduce the usage of hazardous and toxic chemicals in your products and processes and the practices adopted to manage such wastes.

Emami Limited has adopted a structured and tech-enabled waste management strategy built on the 5R principles—Record, Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, and Reject. All types of waste generated across facilities are accurately tracked, enabling timely interventions. Efforts are focused on reducing waste at the source, and multiple projects supported by advanced technologies have been implemented to reuse waste wherever feasible. For example, over 50,000 kilolitres of treated effluent water have been repurposed within operations.

Recycling remains a key pillar, with a strong emphasis on increasing the recyclability of packaging and other materials used. Non-recyclable waste is responsibly disposed of in line with statutory norms.

To reduce the usage of hazardous and toxic chemicals, Emami continually reviews and upgrades its formulations and manufacturing processes. Preference is given to safer, non-toxic, and biodegradable alternatives wherever possible. The company ensures proper handling, storage, and disposal of any hazardous materials, in accordance with safety standards and environmental regulations, thereby minimizing risk to workers and the environment.

For every new project or significant expansion at our manufacturing units, a detailed impact assessment is carried out as per the norms prescribed by regulatory authorities. These assessments evaluate potential environmental risks, including air and water pollution, waste generation, and impacts on local ecosystems. The findings are submitted to the respective State Pollution Control Boards and other relevant regulatory bodies, and projects are undertaken only after receiving the required environmental clearances and consents.

Our approach goes beyond compliance. We integrate EIA outcomes into project design and execution to ensure that all preventive and corrective environmental measures are effectively implemented from the outset. This helps minimize environmental footprint and aligns our operations with best practices in sustainability.

By embedding environmental due diligence into our project planning processes, Emami Limited not only meets statutory requirements but also reinforces its long-term commitment to sustainability, responsible growth, and stakeholder trust.

Opinion

We have audited the standalone financial statements of Emami Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31 2025, the Statement of Profit and Loss, including the statement of Other Comprehensive Income, the Cash Flow Statement and the Statement of Changes in Equity for the year then ended, and notes to the standalone financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013, as amended ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2025, its profit including other comprehensive loss, its cash flows and the changes in equity for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs), as specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements' section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the 'Code of Ethics' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2025. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report. We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the standalone financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying standalone financial statements.

Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
(a) Recoverability of Minimum Alternate Tax ("MAT") Credit (as described in note 3.48 of the standalone financial statements)
One of the manufacturing facilities of the Company is availing tax benefits under section 80IE of Income Tax Act, 1961 (IT Act) as a result of which the Company is paying taxes under MAT to the government basis the book profits. As on March 31, 2025, the Company has Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) credit entitlement amounting to Rs. 53,421.21 Lacs.	Our audit procedures amongst others included the following: • Understood the income tax computation process for normal tax and minimum alternate tax and reviewed controls around recognition of MAT credit. Evaluated the design and tested the effectiveness of relevant controls in this regard.

Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
The utilization of MAT credit entitlement will be through offsetting it when the Company pays normal taxes under the provision of Income Tax Act, 1961. Therefore, the recoverability of MAT credit entitlement is dependent upon generation of sufficient future taxable profits within the stipulated period prescribed under the Income Tax Act, 1961. Recoverability of MAT credit entitlement is sensitive to the assumptions used by the management to determine the forecasted profits, expected future market scenario, economic conditions, interpretation of tax laws, management's expansion plans etc. Accordingly, the recoverability of MAT credit entitlement is determined as a key audit matter in our audit of the standalone financial statements.	• Assessed management's assumptions that substantiate the probability that the unused MAT credit will be recovered through taxable profit under normal provision in future years and also assessed the tax planning strategies, budgets and the plans prepared by the management and the relevant tax legislations. • Evaluated the basis used in determining the forecasted income of taxable and non-taxable units including allocations of costs. • Reviewed returns submitted to the relevant tax authorities and compared these with the basis for accounting records. • Evaluated the adequacy of the disclosures made by the Company in this regard in the standalone financial statements.
(b) Revenue from sale of goods (as described in note 2.2.a, note 3.31 and note 3.61 to the standalone financial statements)
The Company recognizes revenues when control of the goods is transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods. The terms of arrangements in case of domestic and exports sales, including the timing of transfer of control, delivery specifications including incoterms, create complexity and judgment in determining sales revenues. The risk is, therefore, that revenue being recorded before control is transferred which is not in accordance with terms of Ind AS 115 'Revenue from contracts with customers', and accordingly, it is determined to be a key audit matter in our audit of the standalone financial statements.	Our audit procedures amongst others included the following: • Considered the appropriateness of the Company's revenue recognition policy in terms of Ind AS 115 'Revenue from contracts with customers'. • Assessed the design and tested the operating effectiveness of internal financial controls related to revenue recognition. • Performed sample tests of individual sales transaction and traced to sales invoices and other related documents. In respect of the samples selected, tested that the revenue has been recognized in accordance with Ind AS 115. • Selected sample of sales transactions made pre- and post- year end and tested the period of revenue recognition based on underlying documents. • Assessed the adequacy of relevant disclosures made in the standalone financial statements.
(c) Impairment assessment of Investment in certain subsidiaries and associates (as described in note 3.5 and 3.66 to the standalone financial statements)
The Company carries its investment in subsidiaries and associates at cost and performs an impairment assessment for certain investment as per applicable Ind AS. For these assessments, the Company involves external valuer to determine the recoverable value of such investments using the discounted cash flow method of valuation, which is highly sensitive to changes in inputs used in valuation and involves judgement due to inherent uncertainty in the assumptions used for forecasting the future cash flows.	Our audit procedures amongst others included the following: • Assessed the design and tested the operating effectiveness of internal financial controls related to impairment assessment of investments in subsidiaries and associates. • Evaluated the objectivity and competence of the external valuation specialist involved by the management for such valuation and obtained confirmation of independence from them. • Discussed with the management the methodology and assumptions used in the valuation including discount rates, expected growth rates and terminal growth rates.

Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Accordingly, the impairment assessment of investments in certain subsidiaries and associate companies is determined to be a key audit matter in our audit of the standalone financial statements.	• Involved valuation specialists where considered necessary, to independently assess the assumptions and methodologies used by the Company in computing the recoverable amount. In making this assessment, we also assessed the objectivity, independence and competency of the valuation specialists. • Obtained suitable management representation on the projections of future cash flows and the various assumptions used in the valuation. • Tested the arithmetical accuracy of the management's impairment testing model. • Assessed the adequacy of relevant disclosures made in the standalone financial statements.

Other Information

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility and Sustainability Report and Report on Corporate Governance, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether such other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance including other comprehensive loss, cash flows and changes in equity of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2025 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure 2 to the Independent Auditor's Report of even date on the Standalone Financial Statements of Emami Limited

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements of Emami Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, as specified under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both issued by ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to these standalone financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls With Reference to these Standalone Financial Statements

A company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls With Reference to Standalone Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to standalone financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

The Company is a public limited company domiciled in India and is primarily listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) and the National Stock Exchange (NSE). The registered office of the Company is located at 687, Anandapur, E.M. Bypass, Kolkata, West Bengal.

2.1. Basis of Preparation

The standalone Ind AS financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time) and presentation requirements of Division II of Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013. These standalone Ind AS financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis except for following assets and liabilities which have been measured at fair value amount:

a) Derivative financial instruments

b) Certain financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments)

c) Defined benefit plans – plan asset

The Company has prepared the financial statements on the basis that it will continue to operate as a going concern.

The standalone Ind AS financial statements were approved for issue in accordance with the resolution of the Board of Directors on May 16, 2025.

2.2. Summary of Material Accounting Policies

a. Revenue Recognition

Revenue from contract with customers

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company has generally concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements, because it typically controls the goods or services before transferring them to the customer.

Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of goods sold and services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts, volume rebates offered by the Company as part of the contract, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties like outgoing sales taxes including goods and service tax. Revenue from sale of goods is recognised at the point in time when control of the goods is transferred to the customer and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably and recovery of the consideration is probable. Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price.

The Company recognises revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured, it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the Company regardless of when the payment is being made.

The specific recognition criteria described below must also be met before revenue is recognised.

Sale of Products

Revenue from sale of products is recognized when the Company transfers the control of goods to the customer as per the terms of contract. The Company considers whether there are other promises in the contract that are separate performance obligations to which a portion of the transaction price needs to be allocated. In determining the transaction price, the Company considers the effects of variable consideration, the existence of significant financing component, non-cash considerations and consideration payable to the customer (if any). In case of domestic

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

sales, the Company believes that the control gets transferred to the customer on dispatch of the goods from the factory/depot and in case of exports, revenue is recognised on passage of control as per the terms of contract / incoterms.

Variable consideration

Volume rebates

Variable consideration in the form of volume rebates is recognised at the time of sale made to the customers and are offset against the amounts payable by them. To estimate the variable consideration for the expected future rebates, the Company applies the expected value method or most likely method. The selected method that best predicts the amount of variable consideration is primarily driven by the number of volume thresholds contained in the contract. The most likely amount is used for those contracts with a single volume threshold, while the expected value method is used for those with more than one volume threshold. The Company then applies the requirements on constraining estimates of variable consideration and recognises a liability for the expected future rebates.

Rights of return

A majority of sales contract generally provide a customer a right to return an item within a limited period of time for certain reasons. Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur. Thus, the amount of revenue recognized is adjusted for expected returns, which are estimated based on the historical data for each specific type of customers. In these circumstances, a refund liability and a right to receive returned goods (and corresponding adjustment to cost of sales) are recognized. The entity measures right to receive returned goods at the carrying amount of the inventory sold less any expected costs to recover goods. The refund liability is presented under the head "Provisions" on the Balance Sheet. The Company reviews its estimate of expected returns at each reporting date and updates the amounts of the asset and liability accordingly.

Contract balances

Trade receivables

A receivable represents the Company's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due).

Advance from customer

Advance from customer is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Company has received consideration from the customer. Advance from customer is recognised as revenue when the Company performs under the contract.

Provision for rebates and damage return

Provision for rebates and damage return is the obligation to refund some or all of the consideration received (or receivable) from the customer and is measured at the amount the Company ultimately expects it will have to return to the customer. The Company updates its estimates of Provision for rebates and damage return (and the corresponding change in the transaction price) at the end of each reporting period.

b. Property, Plant & Equipment

Capital work in progress, plant and equipment are stated at acquisition cost, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. The cost of Property, Plant & Equipment comprises of its purchase price, including import duties and other non-refundable taxes or levies and any directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Interest and other financial charges on loans borrowed specifically for acquisition of qualifying assets are capitalised till it get ready for its intended use.

When significant parts of plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Company depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives. Likewise, when a major inspection is performed, its cost is recognised in the carrying amount of the plant and equipment as a replacement if the recognition criteria are satisfied. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in the Statement of Profit or Loss as incurred.

Depreciation is provided on the straight line method over the estimated useful lives of assets and are in line with the requirements of Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013, except certain items of building and plant & machinery as detailed in next paragraph. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

Factory Building	30 Years
Non-factory Buildings (including Roads)	10 - 60 Years
Plant & Machinery*	7-15 Years
Furniture & Fixtures	10 Years
Office Equipment	3-5 Years
Computers	3-6 Years
Vehicles	8 Years

Freehold land is not depreciated.

*Block, Dies & Moulds (other than High-End Moulds) are depreciated @100% on pro rata basis.

The Company, based on assessment made by technical expert and management estimate, depreciates certain items of building and plant and equipment over 20 years and 3 - 10 years respectively. These estimated useful lives are different from the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. The management believes that these estimated useful lives are realistic and reflect fair approximation of the period over which the assets are likely to be used.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as 'Capital Advances' under other 'Non-Current Assets'.

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. The cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the financial statements upon derecognition and the resultant gains or losses are recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate. In particular, the Company considers the impact of health, safety and environmental legislation in its assessment of expected useful lives and estimated residual values.

c. Investment Property

Property that is held for long-term rental yields or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is classified as investment property. Investment property is measured initially at its cost, including related transaction costs and are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised to the asset's carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

The cost includes the cost of replacing parts and borrowing costs for long-term construction projects if the recognition criteria are met. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in the Statement of Profit & Loss as incurred.

The Company depreciates building component of investment property on the straight line method over the estimated useful life of 60 years from the date of original purchase and are in line with the requirements of Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

Though the Company measures investment property using cost based measurement, the fair value of investment property is disclosed in the notes. Fair values are determined based on an annual evaluation performed internally by the Company.

Investment properties are derecognised either when they have been disposed of or when they are permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from their disposal. The difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognised in profit or loss in the period of derecognition.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

Transfers are made to (or from) investment properties only when there is a change in use. Transfer between investment property, owner-occupied property and inventories do not change the carrying amount of the property transferred and they do not change the cost of that property for measurement or disclosure purpose.

d. Intangible Assets

Intangible Assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Intangible Assets acquired in a business combination is valued at their fair value at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

The useful lives of Intangible Assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite.

Intangible Assets with finite lives are amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an Intangible Asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at the end of each reporting period. The amortisation expense on Intangible Assets with finite lives is recognised in the Statement of Profit & Loss. The Company amortises intangible assets over their estimated useful lives using the straight line method.

The estimated useful lives of assets are as follows:

Softwares & Licences	6 Years
Brand & Trademarks (Acquired)	7 Years
Copy Rights (Acquired)	7 Years

Intangible Assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortised, but are tested for impairment annually, either individually or at the cash-generating unit level.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the Statement of Profit & Loss when the asset is derecognised.

e. Research & Development Cost

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditures on an individual project are recognised as an intangible asset when the Company can demonstrate:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that the asset will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete and its ability and intention to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of resources to complete the asset
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure during development

Following initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the asset is carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortised over the period of expected future benefit.

During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

f. Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Costs incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition are accounted for as follows:

i) Raw materials, Packing materials and Stores & Spares: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on moving weighted average method.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

ii) Finished goods and work in progress: cost includes cost of direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on the normal operating capacity. Cost is determined on moving weighted average method.

iii) Stock in trade: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on moving weighted average basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

g. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses, at each reporting date, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

Impairment losses of continuing operations, including impairment on inventories, are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

The Company assesses where climate risks could have a significant impact, such as the introduction of emission-reduction legislation that may increase manufacturing costs, etc. These risks in relation to climate-related matters are included as key assumptions where they materially impact the measure of recoverable amount. These assumptions have been included in the cash-flow forecasts in assessing value-in-use amounts, as applicable.

h. Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset.

Subsequent measurement

Financial instruments at amortised cost

A 'financial instrument' is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:

i) The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and

ii) Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

(EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in finance income in the profit or loss.

Equity investments

All equity investments (excluding investments in subsidiaries and associates) in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at Fair Value Through Profit and Loss (FVTPL). For all other equity instruments, the Company makes an irrevocable election to present in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) subsequent changes in the fair value. The Company makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable. These equity shares are designated as Fair Value Through OCI (FVTOCI) as they are not held for trading and disclosing their fair value fluctuation in profit and loss will not reflect the purpose of holding.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to Statement of Profit and Loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Investments in subsidiaries and associate are stated at cost less provision for impairment loss, if any. Investments are tested for impairment wherever event or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised under the head "Other Expenses" for the amount by which the carrying amount of investments exceeds its recoverable amount.

Investment in mutual funds / alternate investment funds

Investment in mutual funds / alternate investment funds falls within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derivative Instruments

Derivative Instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period, with changes included in 'Other Income'/'Other Expenses'.

Derecognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e. removed from the Company's balance sheet) when:

i) The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or

ii) The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

Income recognition

Interest Income - Interest income from financial instruments is recognised using the effective interest rate method (EIR). The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Dividend - Dividend is recognised in profit or loss only when the right to receive payment is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Company, and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

i) Financial assets that are financial instrument, and are measured at amortised cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, trade receivables and bank balance

ii) Trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 115 (referred to as 'contractual revenue receivables' in these financial statements)

The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on Trade receivables or contract revenue receivables.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original Effective Interest Rate (EIR). Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/ expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss. This amount is reflected under the head 'other expenses' (or 'other income') in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings or payables.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

Subsequent measurement

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the EIR amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

i. Fair Value Measurement

The Company measures financial instruments, such as, equity instruments and derivatives at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

i) Level 1 – Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

ii) Level 2 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable

iii) Level 3 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

j. Cash & Cash Equivalents

Cash and Cash Equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits, as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts as they are considered an integral part of the Company's cash management.

k. Leases

The company assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Company as a lessee

The company applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The company recognises lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

i) Right-of-use assets

The company recognises right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets, are as follows:

Building 2 to 5 years

Leasehold Land is amortised over the period of lease ranging from 30 to 99 years.

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the company at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset. The right-of-use assets are also subject to impairment

ii) Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the company recognises lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the company and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the company exercising the option to terminate.

Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the company uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is re-measured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

The company's lease liabilities are included in Other Financial Liabilities.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

iii) Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The company applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of machinery and equipment (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the lease of low-value assets recognition exemption to leases of office equipment that are considered to be low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

l. Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

m. Employee Benefits

Defined Contribution Plan

The Company makes contributions towards provident fund and superannuation fund to the regulatory authorities in a defined contribution retirement benefit plan for qualifying employees, where the Company has no further obligations. Both the employees and the Company make monthly contributions to the Provident Fund Plan equal to a specified percentage of the covered employee's salary.

Defined Benefit Plan

i) In respect of certain employees, provident fund contributions are made to a Trust administered by the Company. The Company's liability is actuarially determined (using the Projected Unit Credit method) at the end of the year and any shortfall in the fund size maintained by the Trust set up by the Company is additionally provided for.

ii) The Company operates a defined benefit gratuity plan in India, comprising of Gratuity fund with Life Insurance Corporation of India and Other Funds. The Company's liability is actuarially determined using the Projected Unit Credit method at the end of the year in accordance with the provision of Ind AS 19 - Employee Benefits.

The Company recognizes the net obligation of a defined benefit plan in its balance sheet as an asset or liability. Gains and losses through re-measurements of the net defined benefit liability/(asset) are recognized in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods. The effect of any plan amendments are recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

The Company recognises the changes in the net defined benefit obligation like service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements and net interest expense or income, as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Other Long Term Employee Benefits

The Company treats accumulated leaves expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as long term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the end of each financial year. This benefit is not funded except in Vapi, Dongari and Masat units, where the Leave Fund is with Life Insurance Corporation of India. The Company presents the leave as current liability in the balance sheet, to the extent it does not have an unconditional right to defer its settlement beyond 12 months after the reporting date. Where the Company has unconditional legal and contractual right to defer the settlement for the period beyond 12 months, the same is presented as non-

current liability. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the Statement of Profit and Loss and are not deferred.

n. Income Taxes

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities (DTL) are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- When the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences;
- In respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

In assessing the recoverability of deferred tax assets, the Company relies on the same forecast assumptions used elsewhere in the financial statements and in other management reports, which, among other things, reflect the potential impact of climate-related development on the business, such as increased cost of production as a result of measures to reduce carbon emission, etc., as applicable in the respective scenarios.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

(and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Current and Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current and Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Minimum alternate tax (MAT) paid in a year is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss as current tax for the year. The deferred tax asset is recognised for MAT credit available only to the extent that it is probable that the concerned company will pay normal income tax during the specified period, i.e., the period for which MAT credit is allowed to be carried forward. In the year in which the company recognizes MAT credit as an asset, it is created by way of credit to the Statement of Profit and Loss and shown as part of deferred tax asset. The company reviews the "MAT credit entitlement" asset at each reporting date and writes down the asset to the extent that it is no longer probable that it will pay normal tax during the specified period.

One unit of the Company is entitled to tax holiday under the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India. Accordingly, no deferred tax (asset or liability) relating to such units is recognized in respect of temporary differences which reverse during the tax holiday period. Deferred tax in respect of temporary differences which reverse after the tax holiday period is recognized in the year in which the temporary differences originate. However, the Company restricts recognition of deferred tax assets to the extent it is probable that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized.

o. Foreign Currency Transactions & Translations

Functional and presentation currency

The standalone financial statements are presented in INR, the functional currency of the Company. Items included in the financial statements of the Company are recorded using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates (the 'functional currency').

Transaction and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Company at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in OCI or profit or loss are also recognised in OCI or profit or loss, respectively).

p. Provisions and Contingent Liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation

and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

q. Government Grants

The Company recognizes government grants only when there is reasonable assurance that the conditions attached to them shall be complied with and the grants will be received. Grants related to assets are treated as deferred income and are recognized as other operating income in the Statement of profit & loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful life of the asset. Grants related to income are recognized on a systematic basis over the periods necessary to match them with the related costs which they are intended to compensate and are deducted from the expense in the statement of profit & loss.

When the Company receives grants of non-monetary assets, the asset and the grant are recorded at fair value amounts and released to profit or loss over the expected useful life in a pattern of consumption of the benefit of the underlying asset i.e. by equal annual instalments.

Exports entitlements are recognised when the right to receive credit as per the terms of the schemes is established in respect of the exports made by the Company and when there is no significant uncertainty regarding the ultimate collection of the relevant export proceeds.

r. Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for events such as bonus issue, bonus element in a rights issue, share split, and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

s. Current and non-current classification

Based on the time involved between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle for determining current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities in the balance sheet.

t. Dividend

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

u. Measurement of EBITDA

The Company presents Earnings before Interest expense, Tax, Depreciation and Amortisation (EBITDA) in the statement of profit or loss; this is not specifically required by Ind AS 1. The terms EBITDA are not defined in Ind AS. Ind AS complaint Schedule III allows companies to present Line items, sub-line items and sub-totals shall be presented as an addition or substitution on the face of the Financial Statements when such presentation is relevant to an understanding of the company's financial position or performance or to cater to industry/sector-specific disclosure requirements or when required for compliance with the amendments to the Companies Act or under the Indian Accounting Standards.

Accordingly, the Company has elected to present earnings before interest expense, tax, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) as a separate line item on the face of the Statement of Profit and Loss. The company measures EBITDA on the basis of profit/ (loss) from continuing operations. In its measurement, the Company does not include depreciation and amortization expense, finance costs and tax expense, but includes other income.

v. Rounding of amounts

All amounts disclosed in the standalone Financial Statements and notes have been rounded off to the nearest Lakhs (with two places of decimal) as per the requirement of Schedule III, unless otherwise stated.

w. New and amendments standards

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has notified Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2024 to amend the following Ind AS which are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2024. The amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2025. When applying the amendments, an entity cannot restate comparative information.

The amendments are not expected to have a material impact on the Group's financial statements.

Nature and purpose of reserves

General Reserve

Under the erstwhile Companies Act 1956, general reserve was created through an annual transfer of net income at a specified percentage in accordance with applicable regulations. The purpose of these transfers was to ensure that if a dividend distribution in a given year is more than 10% of the paid-up capital of the Company for that year, then the total dividend distribution is less than the total distributable results for that year. Consequent to introduction of Companies Act 2013, the requirement to mandatorily transfer a specified percentage of the net profit to general reserve has been withdrawn. However, the amount previously transferred to the general reserve can be utilised only in accordance with the specific requirements of Companies Act, 2013.

Capital Reserve

Capital Reserve has been primarily created on amalgamation in earlier years.

Retained Earnings

Retained earnings are the profits/(loss) that the Company has earned/incurred till date, less any transfers to general reserve, dividends or other distributions paid to shareholders. Retained earnings include re-measurement loss / (gain) on defined benefit plans, net of taxes that will not be reclassified to Statement of Profit and Loss.

3.19 OTHER EQUITY (Contd..)

Equity Instrument through Other Comprehensive Income

This Reserve represents the cumulative gains (net of losses) arising on the revaluation of Equity Instruments measured at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income, net of amounts reclassified, if any, to Retained Earnings when those instruments are disposed of.

Capital Redemption Reserve (CRR)

Represents the nominal value of Equity shares bought back pursuant to Buyback in accordance with Section 69 of the Companies Act, 2013.

3.38 Defined Benefit Plan (Gratuity) : (Contd..)

(vi) Effect of Plan on Entity's Future Cash Flows

a) Funding arrangements and Funding Policy

The Company has purchased an insurance policy to provide for payment of gratuity to the employees. Every year, the insurance company carries out a funding valuation based on the latest employee data provided by the Company. Any deficit in the assets arising as a result of such valuation is funded by the Company.

Expected cash flows over the next (valued on undiscounted basis):	2024-2025	2023-2024

2 to 5 Years	3,005.68	2,512.73
6 to 10 Years	2,384.44	2,294.06
More than 10 Years	1,142.96	1,678.65

(vii) Description of Risk Exposures

Valuations are performed on certain basic set of pre determined assumptions and other regulatory frame work which may vary over time. Thus, the Company is exposed to various risks in providing the above gratuity benefit which are as follows:

Interest Rate Risk: The plan exposes the Company to the risk of fall in interest rates. A fall in interest rates will result in an increase in the ultimate cost of providing the above benefit and will thus result in an increase in the value of the liability (as shown in financial statements).

Liquidity Risk: This is the risk that the Company is not able to meet the short-term gratuity pay outs. This may arise due to non availability of enough cash/cash equivalent to meet the liabilities or holding of illiquid assets not being sold in time.

Salary Escalation Risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan is calculated with the assumption of salary increase rate of plan participants in future. Deviation in the rate of increase of salary in future for plan participants from the rate of increase in salary used to determine the present value of obligation will have a bearing on the plan's liability.

Demographic Risk: The Company has used certain mortality and attrition assumptions in valuation of the liability. The Company is exposed to the risk of actual experience turning out to be worse compared to the assumptions considered for the valuation.

Regulatory Risk: Gratuity benefit is paid in accordance with the requirements of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 (as amended from time to time). The Company is exposed to any changes to the regulations.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

3.38 Defined Benefit Plan (Gratuity) : (Contd..)

Asset Liability Mismatching or Market Risk: The duration of the liability is longer compared to duration of assets, exposing the Company to market risk for volatilities/fall in interest rate.

Investment Risk: The probability or likelihood of occurrence of losses relative to the expected return on any particular investment.

3.39 Defined Benefit Plan (Provident Fund):

(i) In respect of certain employees, provident fund contributions are made to a Trust administered by the Company.

The defined benefit obligation arises from the possibility that during any time period in the future, the scheme may earn insufficient investment income to meet the guaranteed interest rate declared by government/EPFO/ relevant authorities.

The net defined benefit obligation as at the valuation date, thus, represents the excess of accrued account value plus interest rate guaranteed liability over the fair value of plan assets.

The Taxation Laws (Amendment) Ordinance, 2019 was promulgated on September 20, 2019 which amends the Income Tax Act, 1961, and the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019. The Ordinance provides domestic companies with an option to opt for lower tax rates, provided they do not claim certain deductions. Further, CBDT has clarified that the tax credit of MAT paid by the domestic company exercising option under section 115BAA of the Act shall not be available consequent to exercising of such option.

As there is no time line within which option under section 115BAA can be exercised, it may be noted that a domestic company having credit of MAT may, if it so desires, exercise the option after utilising the said credit against the regular tax payable. The management has assessed the impact of the above ordinance and CBDT clarification and in view of the significant amount of MAT credit and a unit having tax holiday, the management has chosen not to opt for lower tax rates and continue with the normal tax rate.

One of the manufacturing facilities of the Company located in Assam is eligible for availing income tax benefits till FY 2025-26 under section 80IE of Income Tax Act, 1961 (IT Act) as a result of which the Company is paying MAT under section 115JB of the IT Act. In order to determine the utilization of MAT credit in future years, the management has projected its book profits and tax profits and based on the same, MAT credit has been recognized. During the current year, the Company has recognised MAT credit amounting to ₹ 8,391.00 lacs and the aggregate of such MAT credit as at March 31, 2025 is ₹ 53,421.21 lacs. Subsequent to the recognition of MAT credit, there is an unrecognised MAT credit amounting to ₹ 2,943.70 Lacs which will expire between AY 2025-27, as it is not reasonably certain that such credit can be utilised against future taxable income.

3.55 Significant accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to contingent assets and liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expenses during the period. These estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and management's best knowledge of current events and actions the Company may take in future.

Information about critical estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities are included in the following notes:

Judgements

i) Estimation of defined benefit obligations

The liabilities of the Company arising from employee benefit obligations and the related current service cost, are determined on an actuarial basis using various assumptions Refer Note No. 3.38 and 3.39 for significant assumption used.

ii) Estimation of tax expenses, assets and payable

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax credit and on unused losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies.

The ultimate realisation of deferred income tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which the temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversals of deferred tax liabilities and the projected future taxable income in making this assessment. Based on the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable income over the periods in which the deferred income tax assets are deductible, management believes that the Company will realise the benefits of those deductible differences. The amount of the deferred income tax assets considered realisable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carry forward periods are reduced. Refer Note No. 3.8 and 3.48.

iii) Estimation of provisions and contingencies

Provisions are liabilities of uncertain amount or timing recognised where a legal or constructive obligation exists at the balance sheet date, as a result of a past event, where the amount of the obligation can be reliably estimated and where the outflow of economic benefit is probable. Contingent liabilities are possible obligations that may arise from past event whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events which are not fully within the control of the company. The Company exercises judgement in recognizing the provisions and assessing the exposure to contingent liabilities relating to pending litigations. Judgement is necessary in assessing the likelihood of the success of the pending claim and to quantify the possible range of financial settlement. Due to this inherent uncertainty in the evaluation process, actual losses may be different from originally estimated provision. Refer Note No. 3.22, 3.29, 3.40 and 3.43.

iv) Estimation of expected useful lives and residual values of property, plants and equipment and intangible assets.

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets are depreciated/ amortized at historical cost using straight-line method based on the estimated useful life, taking into account residual value. The asset's residual value and useful life are based on the Company's best estimates and reviewed, and adjusted if required, at each Balance Sheet date. Refer Note No. 3.1, 3.2, 3.3 & 3.4.

v) Impairment of non financial assets / investment in subsidiaries and associates

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or cash generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The fair value less costs of disposal calculation is based on available data from binding sales transactions, conducted at arm's length, for similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. The value in use calculation is based on a DCF model. The carrying amounts of the Company's non-financial assets /investment in subsidiaries and associates are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the recoverable amounts of cash-generating units have been determined based on value in use calculations. These calculations require the use of estimates such as discount rates and growth rates.

vi) Fair Value Measurements

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the Balance Sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair values are measured using valuation techniques which involve various judgements and assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. For further details refer Note No. 3.47

vii) Lease Accounting

The Company evaluates if an arrangement qualifies to be a lease as per the requirements of Ind AS 116. Identification of a lease requires significant judgment. The Company uses significant judgement in assessing the lease term (including anticipated renewals) and the applicable discount rate.

The Company determines the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease, together with both periods covered by an option to extend the lease if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and periods covered by an option to terminate the lease if the Company is reasonably certain not to exercise that option. In assessing whether the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend a lease, or not to exercise an option to terminate a lease, it considers all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the Company to exercise the option to extend the lease, or not to exercise the option to terminate the lease. The Company revises the lease term if there is a change in the non-cancellable period of a lease.

The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

3.55 Significant accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions (Contd..)

The Company has considered leases with term up to 12 (Twelve) months as short-term leases. Such short term leases are accordingly excluded from the scope for the purpose of Ind AS 116 reporting. Refer Note No. 3.4, 3.20, 3.25 & 3.50.

viii) Revenue recognition - Estimating variable consideration for returns and rebates

The Company estimates variable considerations to be included in the transaction price for the sale of goods with rights of return and volume rebates.

The Company developed a statistical model for forecasting sales returns, damage returns and rebates. The model used the historical return data to come up with expected return percentages. These percentages are applied to determine the expected value of the variable consideration.

The Company updates its assessment of expected returns and rebates quarterly and the refund liabilities are adjusted accordingly. Estimates of expected returns and rebates are sensitive to changes in circumstances and the Company's past experience regarding returns and rebate entitlements may not be representative of customers' actual returns and rebate entitlements in the future. Refer Note No. 3.29, 3.31, 3.61 & 3.62.

ix) Inventory Overhead

The valuation of inventories involves judgment in the allocation of overheads, particularly fixed production overheads. The allocation is based on the normal capacity of the production facilities. Management reviews the basis and method of overhead absorption periodically to ensure that inventory is not over- or under-valued.

Estimation of normal capacity requires judgment based on past trends, forecasted production, seasonal factors, and management's operational plans. Any deviation from these estimates may impact the cost of inventories and, consequently, the profit or loss of the Company.

3.56 The Board of Directors of the Company, at its meeting held on March 24, 2023 approved Buyback of the Company's fully paid-up equity shares of face value of ₹ 1 each from the eligible equity shareholders of the Company other than promoters, promoter group and persons who are in control of the Company, at a price not exceeding ₹ 450 per equity share (Maximum Buyback price), for an aggregate amount not exceeding ₹ 18,600 lacs (Maximum Buyback size), payable in cash from the open market route through the stock exchange mechanism under the Companies Act, 2013 and SEBI Buyback Regulations 2018 . The buyback commenced on April 13, 2023 and got completed on July 06, 2023.

The Company bought back 46,50,000 equity shares in total cash consideration of ₹ 23,009.04 Lacs (including ₹ 162.70 lacs towards transaction costs of Buyback and ₹ 4,316.14 lacs towards Buyback distribution tax). These equity shares were extinguished as per the records of the depositories. In line with the requirement of Companies Act, 2013, an amount of ₹ 22,863.20 lacs have been utilised from General Reserve for the Buyback. Further, capital redemption reserve of ₹ 46.50 lacs, representing the nominal value of shares bought back, has been created out of general reserve in accordance with Section 69 of the Companies Act, 2013.

3.57 The Code on Social Security, 2020 ('Code') relating to employee benefits during employment and post employment benefits received Presidential assent in September 2020. The Code has been published in the Gazette of India. Certain sections of the Code came into effect on 3 May 2023. However, the final rules/interpretation have not yet been issued. The Company will assess the impact of the Code when it comes into effect and will record any related impact in the period the Code becomes effective.

Independent Auditor's Report

To
The Members of Emami Limited

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Emami Limited (hereinafter referred to as "the Holding Company"), its subsidiaries (the Holding Company and its subsidiaries together referred to as "the Group") and its associates comprising of the consolidated Balance sheet as at March 31 2025, the consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, including Other Comprehensive Income, the consolidated Cash Flow Statement and the consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the consolidated financial statements".

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us and based on the consideration of reports of other auditors on separate financial statements and on the other financial information of the subsidiaries, the aforesaid consolidated financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013, as amended ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the consolidated state of affairs of the Group and its associates as at March 31, 2025, their consolidated profit including other comprehensive loss, their consolidated cash flows and the consolidated statement of changes in equity for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs), as specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements' section of our report. We are independent of the Group and its associates in accordance with the 'Code of Ethics' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2025. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report. We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements. The results of audit procedures performed by us and by other auditors of components not audited by us, as reported by them in their audit reports furnished to us by the management, including those procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
(a) Recoverability of Minimum Alternate Tax ("MAT") Credit (as described in note 3.8 and 3.50 of the Consolidated Financial Statements)
One of the manufacturing facilities of the Holding Company is availing tax benefits under section 80IE of Income Tax Act, 1961 (IT Act) as a result of which the Holding Company is paying taxes under MAT to the government basis the book profits. As on March 31, 2025, the Holding Company has Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) credit entitlement amounting to Rs. 53,421.21 lacs. The utilization of MAT credit entitlement will be through offsetting it when the Holding Company pays normal taxes under the provision of Income Tax Act, 1961. Therefore, the recoverability of MAT credit entitlement is dependent upon generation of sufficient future taxable profits within the stipulated period prescribed under the Income Tax Act, 1961. Recoverability of MAT credit entitlement is sensitive to the assumptions used by the management to determine the forecasted profits, expected future market scenario, economic conditions, interpretation of tax laws, management's expansion plans etc. Accordingly, the recoverability of MAT credit entitlement is determined as a key audit matter in our audit of the consolidated financial statements.	Our audit procedures amongst others included the following: • Understood the income tax computation process for normal tax and minimum alternate tax and reviewed controls around recognition of MAT credit. Evaluated the design and tested the effectiveness of relevant controls in this regard. • Assessed management's assumptions that substantiate the probability that the unused MAT credit will be recovered through taxable profit under normal provision in future years and also assessed the tax planning strategies, budgets and the plans prepared by the management and the relevant tax legislations. • Evaluated the basis used in determining the forecasted income of taxable and non-taxable units including allocations of costs. • Reviewed returns submitted to the relevant tax authorities and compared these with the basis for accounting records. • Evaluated the adequacy of the disclosures made by the Holding Company in this regard in the Consolidated Financial Statements.
(b) Revenue from sale of goods (as described in note 2.3.c, note 3.33 and note 3.64 to the consolidated financial statements)
The Group recognizes revenues when control of the goods is transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods. The terms of arrangements in case of domestic and exports sales, including the timing of transfer of control, delivery specifications including incoterms, create complexity and judgment in determining sales revenues. The risk is, therefore, that revenue being recorded before control is transferred which is not in accordance with terms of Ind AS 115 'Revenue from contracts with customers', and accordingly, it is determined to be a key audit matter in our audit of the consolidated financial statements.	Our/ other auditors' audit procedures amongst others included the following: • Considered the appropriateness of the Group's revenue recognition policy in terms of Ind AS 115 'Revenue from contracts with customers'. • Assessed the design and tested the operating effectiveness of internal financial controls related to revenue recognition. • Performed sample tests of individual sales transaction and traced to sales invoices and other related documents. In respect of the samples selected, tested that the revenue has been recognized in accordance with Ind AS 115. • Selected sample of sales transactions made pre- and post-year end and tested the period of revenue recognition based on underlying documents. • Assessed the adequacy of relevant disclosures made in the consolidated financial statements.
(c) Impairment Assessment of Goodwill and Investments in certain associates (as described in note 3.3, 3.5(a) and 3.67 to the consolidated financial statements)

Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
The Group has goodwill and investment in associate companies in consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2025 for which the Company performs impairment assessment per the applicable Ind AS. This assessment is done by computing the recoverable value based on discounted cash flow method. The recoverable value so determined is compared with the carrying values and if there is a deficit, impairment loss is recognised. The inputs to the impairment testing model which have the most significant impact on the CGU's recoverable value include: – Projected revenue growth, operating margins and operating cash-flows; – Stable long-term growth rates till perpetuity; and – Discount rates Considering that the impairment assessment requires consideration of above inputs that involves significant management judgement, this has been identified as a key audit matter.	Our audit procedures amongst others included the following: • Assessed the design and tested the operating effectiveness of internal financial controls related to impairment assessment of goodwill and Investments in certain associates. • Evaluated the objectivity and competence of the external valuation specialist involved by the management for such assessment and obtained confirmation of independence from them. • Evaluated the methodology applied by the Group in determining the CGUs to which goodwill is allocated. • Discussed with the management the methodology and assumptions used in the impairment assessment including discount rates, expected growth rates and terminal growth rates. • Involved valuation specialists where considered necessary, to independently assess the assumptions and methodologies used by the Group in computing the recoverable value. In making this assessment, we also assessed the objectivity, independence and competency of the valuation specialists. • Obtained suitable management representation on the projections of future cash flows and the various assumptions used in the assessment. • Tested the arithmetical accuracy of the management's impairment testing model. • Assessed the adequacy of relevant disclosures made in the consolidated financial statements.

The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility and Sustainability Report and Report on Corporate Governance, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether such other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in terms of the requirements of the Act that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance including other comprehensive loss, consolidated cash flows and consolidated statement of changes in equity of the Group including its associates in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended. The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of their respective companies and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates are responsible for assessing the ability of their respective companies to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates are also responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of their respective companies.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group and its associates to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group and its associates to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group and its associates of which we are the independent auditors, to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2025 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure 2 to the Independent Auditor's Report of even date on the consolidated financial statements of Emami Limited

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Emami Limited (hereinafter referred to as the "Holding Company") as of and for the year ended March 31, 2025, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiaries (the Holding Company and its subsidiaries together referred to as "the Group") and its associates, which are companies incorporated in India, as of that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and its associates, which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Holding Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Holding Company's internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, specified under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both, issued by ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls With Reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

A company's internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls With Reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Group and its associates, which are companies incorporated in India, have, maintained in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31,2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Holding Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

Other Matters

Our report under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of the Holding Company, in so far as it relates to one (1) subsidiary, which is a company incorporated in India, is based on the corresponding report of the auditor of such subsidiary incorporated in India.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

1. Company Overview

The consolidated Ind AS financial statements comprise financial statements of Emami Limited (the Company) and its subsidiaries (collectively, the Group) and associates for the year ended March 31, 2025. The Company is one of India's leading FMCG Companies engaged in manufacturing & marketing of personal care & healthcare products with an enviable portfolio of household brand names such as BoroPlus, Navratna, Fair and Handsome, Zandu Balm, Kesh King, Zandu Pancharishta, Mentho Plus Balm, Dermicool and others.

The Company is a public limited company domiciled in India and is primarily listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) and the National Stock Exchange (NSE). The registered office of the Company is located at 687, Anandapur, E.M. Bypass, Kolkata, West Bengal.

2.1. Basis of Preparation

The consolidated Ind AS financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time) and presentation requirements of Division II of Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013. These Consolidated Ind AS financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis except for following assets and liabilities which have been measured at fair value or revalued amount :

a) Derivative financial instruments

b) Certain financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments)

c) Defined benefit plans – plan assets

The Group has prepared the financial statements on the basis that it will continue to operate as a going concern.

The consolidated Ind AS financial statements were approved for issue in accordance with the resolution of the Board of Directors on May 16, 2025.

2.2. Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated Ind AS financial statements comprise the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries and associates as at March 31, 2025. Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Specifically, the Group controls an investee if and only if the Group has:

a) Power over the investee (i.e. existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee)

b) Exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and

c) The ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns.

The Group re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated Ind AS financial statements from the date the Group gains control until the date the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Consolidated Ind AS financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances. If a member of the group uses accounting policies other than those adopted in the consolidated Ind AS financial statements for like transactions and events in similar circumstances, appropriate adjustments are made to that group member's financial statements in preparing the consolidated Ind AS financial statements to ensure conformity with the group's accounting policies.

The financial statements of all entities used for the purpose of consolidation are drawn up to same reporting date as that of the parent company, i.e., year ended on March 31, 2025.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

Consolidation procedure:

a) Combine like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows of the parent with those of its subsidiaries. For this purpose, income and expenses of the subsidiary are based on the amounts of the assets and liabilities recognised in the consolidated Ind AS financial statements at the acquisition date.

b) Offset (eliminate) the carrying amount of the parent's investment in each subsidiary and the parent's portion of equity of each subsidiary.

c) Eliminate in full intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between entities of the group (profits or losses resulting from intragroup transactions that are recognised in assets, such as inventory and property, plant & equipment, are eliminated in full). Intragroup losses may indicate an impairment that requires recognition in the consolidated Ind AS financial statements. Ind AS 12 Income Taxes applies to temporary differences that arise from the elimination of profits and losses resulting from intragroup transactions.

Profit and Loss and each component of other comprehensive income (OCI) are attributed to the equity holders of the parent of the Group and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. When necessary, adjustments are made to financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policy. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

2.3.Summary of Material Accounting Policies

a. Business Combinations and Goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree.

For each business combination, the Group elects whether to measure the non-controlling interests in the acquiree at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their acquisition date fair values. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their acquisition fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable.

When the Group acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. This includes the separation of embedded derivatives in host contracts by the acquiree.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, any previously held equity interest is re-measured at its acquisition date fair value and any resulting gain or loss is recognised in Profit and Loss or OCI, as appropriate.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognised for non-controlling interests, and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Group re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in OCI and accumulated

in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognises the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

b. Investment in Associates

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee, but is not control or joint control over those policies.

The considerations made in determining whether significant influence is similar to those necessary to determine control over the subsidiaries.

The Group's investments in its associate is accounted for using the equity method. Under the equity method, the investment in an associate is initially recognised at cost. The carrying amount of the investment is adjusted to recognise changes in the Group's share of net assets of the associate since the acquisition date. Goodwill relating to the associate is included in the carrying amount of the investment and is not tested for impairment individually.

The Statement of Profit and Loss reflects the Group's share of the results of operations of the associate. Any change in OCI of those investees is presented as part of the Group's OCI. In addition, when there has been a change recognised directly in the equity of the associate, the Group recognises its share of any changes, when applicable, in the statement of changes in equity. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and the associate are eliminated to the extent of the interest in the associate.

If an entity's share of losses of an associate equals or exceeds its interest in the associate (which includes any long term interest that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate), the entity discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate. If the associate subsequently reports profits, the entity resumes recognising its share of those profits only after its share of the profits equals the share of losses not recognised.

The aggregate of the Group's share of Profit and Loss of an associate is shown on the face of the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The financial statements of the associate are prepared for the same reporting period as the Group. When necessary, adjustments are made to bring the accounting policies in line with those of the Group.

After application of the equity method, the Group determines whether it is necessary to recognise an impairment loss on its investment in its associate. At each reporting date, the Group determines whether there is objective evidence that the investment in the associate is impaired. If there is such evidence, the Group calculates the amount of impairment as the difference between the recoverable amount of the associate and its

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

carrying value, and then recognises the loss in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Upon loss of significant influence over the associate, the Group measures and recognises any retained investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate upon loss of significant influence and the fair value of the retained investment and proceeds from disposal is recognised in Profit and Loss.

c. Revenue Recognition

Revenue from contract with customers

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Group has generally concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements, because it typically controls the goods or services before transferring them to the customer.

Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of goods sold and services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts, volume rebates offered by the Company as part of the contract, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties like outgoing sales taxes including goods and service tax. Revenue from sale of goods is recognised at the point in time when control of the goods is transferred to the customer and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably and recovery of the consideration is probable. Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price.

The Group recognises revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured, it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the Group regardless of when the payment is being made.

The specific recognition criteria described below must also be met before revenue is recognized.

Sale of Products

Revenue from sale of products is recognized when the Group transfers the control of goods to the customer as per the terms of contract. The Group considers whether there are other promises in the contract that are separate performance obligations to which a portion of the transaction price needs to be allocated. In determining the transaction price, the Group considers the effects of variable consideration, the existence of significant financing component, non-cash considerations and consideration payable to the customer (if any). In case of domestic sales, the Group believes that the control gets transferred to the customer on dispatch of the goods from the factory/depot and in case of exports, revenue is recognised on passage of control as per the terms of contract / incoterms.

Volume rebates

Variable consideration in the form of volume rebates is recognised at the time of sale made to the customers and are offset against the amounts payable by them. To estimate the variable consideration for the expected future rebates, the Group applies the expected value method or most likely method. The selected method that best predicts the amount of variable consideration is primarily driven by the number of volume thresholds contained in the contract. The most likely amount is used for those contracts with a single volume threshold, while the expected value method is used for those with more than one volume threshold. The Group then applies the requirements on constraining estimates of variable consideration and recognises a liability for the expected future rebates.

Rights of return

A majority of sales contract generally provide a customer a right to return an item within a limited period of time for certain reasons. Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur. Thus, the amount of revenue recognized is adjusted for expected returns, which are estimated based on the historical data for each specific type of customers. In these circumstances, a refund liability and a right to receive returned goods (and corresponding adjustment to cost of sales) are recognized. The entity measures right to receive returned goods at the carrying amount of the inventory sold less any expected costs to recover goods. The refund liability is presented under the head "Provisions" on the Balance Sheet. The Company reviews its estimate of expected returns at each reporting date and updates the amounts of the asset and liability accordingly.

Contract balances

Trade receivables

A receivable represents the Group's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due).

Advance from customers

Advance from customer is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration from the customer. Advance from customer is recognised as revenue when the Group performs under the contract.

Provision for rebates and damage return

Provision for rebates and damage return is the obligation to refund some or all of the consideration received (or receivable) from the customer and is measured at the amount the Group ultimately expects it will have to return to the customer. The Group updates its estimates of Provision for rebates and damage return (and the corresponding change in the transaction price) at the end of each reporting period.

d. Property, Plant & Equipment

Capital work in progress, plant and equipment are stated at acquisition cost, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. The cost of Property, Plant & Equipment comprises of its purchase price, including import duties and other non-refundable taxes or levies and any directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Interest and other financial charges on loans borrowed specifically for acquisition of qualifying assets are capitalised till it gets ready for its intended use.

When significant parts of plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Group depreciates them separately based on their specific useful lives. Likewise, when a major inspection is performed, its cost is recognised in the carrying amount of the plant and equipment as a replacement if the recognition criteria are satisfied. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Depreciation is provided on the straight line method over the estimated useful lives of assets and are in line with the requirements of Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013, except certain items of building and plant & machinery as detailed in next paragraph. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

Factory Building	10 - 30 Years
Non-factory Buildings (including Roads)	10 - 60 Years
Plant & Machinery*	5 - 15 Years
Furniture & Fixtures	3 - 10 Years
Office Equipment	3 - 5 Years
Computers	3 - 6 Years
Vehicles	8 Years

Freehold land is not depreciated.

*Block, Dies & Moulds (other than High-End Moulds) are depreciated @100% on pro rata basis.

The Group, based on assessment made by technical expert and management estimate, depreciates certain items of building and plant and equipment over 10 years and 3 - 10 years respectively. These estimated useful lives are different from the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. The management believes that these estimated

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

useful lives are realistic and reflect fair approximation of the period over which the assets are likely to be used.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of Property, Plant and Equipment outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as 'Capital Advances' under 'Other Non-Current Assets'.

An item of Property, Plant and Equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. The cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the financial statements upon derecognition and the resultant gains or losses are recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate. In particular, the Group considers the impact of health, safety and environmental legislation in its assessment of expected useful lives and estimated residual values.

e. Investment Property

Property that is held for long-term rental yields or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Group, is classified as investment property. Investment property is measured initially at its cost, including related transaction costs and are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised to the asset's carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

The cost includes the cost of replacing parts and borrowing costs for long-term construction projects if the recognition criteria are met. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in the Statement of Profit & Loss as incurred.

The Group depreciates building component of investment property on the straight line method over the estimated useful life of 60 years from the date of original purchase and are in line with the requirements of Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

Though the Group measures investment property using cost based measurement, the fair value of investment property is disclosed in the notes. Fair values are determined based on an annual evaluation performed internally by the Group.

Investment properties are derecognised either when they have been disposed of or when they are permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from their disposal. The difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss in the period of derecognition.

Transfers are made to (or from) investment properties only when there is a change in use. Transfer between investment property, owner-occupied property and inventories do not change the carrying amount of the property transferred and they do not change the cost of that property for measurement or disclosure purpose.

f. Intangible Assets

Intangible Assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Intangible Assets acquired in a business combination is valued at their fair value at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

The useful lives of Intangible Assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite.

Intangible Assets with finite lives are amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an Intangible Asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at the end of each reporting period. The amortisation expense on Intangible Assets with finite lives is recognised in the Statement of Profit &

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

Loss. The Group amortises intangible assets over their estimated useful lives using the straight line method.

Copy Rights (Acquired)	7 Years

Intangible Assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortised, but are tested for impairment annually, either individually or at the cash-generating unit level.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the Statement of Profit & Loss when the asset is derecognised.

Impairment on Goodwill is disclosed in statement of profit and loss under the head Depreciation and Amortisation expenses.

g. Research & Development Cost

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditures on an individual project are recognised as an intangible asset when the Group can demonstrate:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that the asset will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete and its ability and intention to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of resources to complete the asset
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure during development

Following initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the asset is carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortised over the period of expected future benefit

During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

h. Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Costs incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition are accounted for as follows:

i) Raw materials, Packing materials and Stores & Spares: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on moving weighted average method.

ii) Finished goods and work in progress: cost includes cost of direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on the normal operating capacity. Cost is determined on moving weighted average method.

iii) Stock in trade: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on moving weighted average basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

i. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Group assesses, at each reporting date, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Group estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

Impairment losses of continuing operations, including impairment on inventories, are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Group assesses where climate risks could have a significant impact, such as the introduction of emission-reduction legislation that may increase manufacturing costs, etc. These risks in relation to climate-related matters are included as key assumptions where they materially impact the measure of recoverable amount. These assumptions have been included in the cash-flow forecasts in assessing value-in-use amounts, as applicable.

j. Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through Profit and Loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement

Financial instruments at amortised cost

A 'financial instrument' is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:

i) The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and

ii) Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in finance income in the Profit and Loss.

Equity investments

All equity investments (excluding investments in associates) in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at Fair Value Through Profit and Loss (FVTPL). For all other equity instruments, the Group makes an irrevocable election to present in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) subsequent changes in the fair value. The Group makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable. These equity shares are designated as FVTOCI as they are not held for trading and disclosing their fair value fluctuation in profit and loss will not reflect the purpose of holding.

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

If the Group decides to classify an equity instrument as at Fair Value Through OCI (FVTOCI), then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to Statement of Profit and Loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Group may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Investment in mutual funds / alternate investment funds

Investment in mutual funds / alternate investment funds falls within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derivative Instruments

Derivative Instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period, with changes included in 'Other Income'/'Other Expenses'.

Derecognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e. removed from the Group's balance sheet) when:

i) The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or

ii) The Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset; and either (a) the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Group has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Group continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Group's continuing involvement. In that case, the Group also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Group has retained.

Income recognition

Interest Income- Interest income from financial instruments is recognised using the effective interest rate method (EIR). The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Group estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Dividend - Dividend is recognised in Profit and Loss only when the right to receive payment is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group, and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Group applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

i) Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortised cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, trade receivables and bank balance

ii) Trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 115 (referred to as 'contractual revenue receivables' in these financial statements)

The Group follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on Trade receivables or Contract revenue receivables.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Group to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original Effective Interest Rate (EIR). Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/ expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss. This amount is reflected under the head 'other expenses' (or 'other income') in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Group determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through Profit and Loss, loans and borrowings or payables.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

Subsequent measurement

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognised in Profit and Loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the EIR amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

k. Fair value measurement

The Group measures financial instruments, such as, equity instruments and derivatives at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

i) Level 1 – Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

ii) Level 2 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable

iii) Level 3 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Group has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

l. Cash & Cash Equivalents

Cash and Cash Equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits, as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts as they are considered an integral part of the Group's cash management.

m. Leases

The Group assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Group as a lessee

The Group applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The Group recognises lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

i) Right-of-use assets

The Group recognises right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any re-measurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets, as follows:

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

Land & Building 2 to 10 years

Leasehold Land is amortised over the period of lease ranging from 30 to 99 years.

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the Group at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset. The right-of-use assets are also subject to impairment.

ii) Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognises lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset. The Group's lease liabilities are included in Other Financial Liabilities.

iii) Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of machinery and equipment (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the lease of low-value assets recognition exemption to leases of office equipment that are considered to be low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

n. Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

o. Employee Benefits

Defined Contribution Plan

The Group makes contributions towards provident fund and superannuation fund to the regulatory authorities in a defined contribution retirement benefit plan for qualifying employees, where the Group has no further obligations. Both the employees and the Group make monthly contributions to the Provident Fund Plan equal to a specified percentage of the covered employee's salary.

Defined Benefit Plan

i) In respect of certain employees, provident fund contributions are made to a Trust administered by the Group. The Group's liability is actuarially determined (using the Projected Unit Credit method) at the end of the year and any shortfall in the fund size maintained by the Trust set up by the Group is additionally provided for.

ii) The Group operates a defined benefit gratuity plan in India, comprising of Gratuity fund with Life Insurance Corporation of India and other funds. The Group's liability is actuarially determined using the Projected Unit Credit method at the end of the year in accordance with the provision of Ind AS 19 - Employee Benefits.

The Group recognizes the net obligation of a defined benefit plan in its balance sheet as an asset or liability. Gains and losses through re-measurements of the net defined benefit liability/(asset) are recognized in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to Profit and Loss in subsequent periods. The effect of any plan amendments are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Group recognises the changes in the net defined benefit obligation like service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements and net interest expense or income, as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Other Long Term Employee Benefits

The Group treats accumulated leaves expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as long term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit Credit Method at the end of each financial year. This benefit is not funded except in Vapi, Dongari and Masat units, where the Leave Fund is with Life Insurance Corporation of India. The Group presents the leave as current liability in the balance sheet, to the extent it does not have an unconditional right to defer its settlement beyond 12 months after the reporting date. Where the Group has unconditional legal and contractual right to defer the settlement for the period beyond 12 months, the same is presented as non-current liability. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the Statement of Profit and Loss and are not deferred.

p. Income Taxes

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

Deferred tax liabilities (DTL) are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable Profit and Loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- When the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable Profit and Loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.
- In respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

In assessing the recoverability of deferred tax assets, the Company relies on the same forecast assumptions used elsewhere in the financial statements and in other management reports, which, among other things, reflect the potential impact of climate-related development on the business, such as increased cost of production as a result of measures to reduce carbon emission, etc., as applicable in the respective scenarios.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Current and Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside Profit and Loss is recognised outside Profit and Loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current and Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Minimum alternate tax (MAT) paid in a year is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss as current tax for the year. The deferred tax asset is recognised for MAT credit available only to the extent that it is probable that the

concerned Group will pay normal income tax during the specified period, i.e., the period for which MAT credit is allowed to be carried forward. In the year in which the Group recognizes MAT credit as an asset, it is created by way of credit to the Statement of Profit and Loss and shown as part of deferred tax asset. The Group reviews the "MAT credit entitlement" asset at each reporting date and writes down the asset to the extent that it is no longer probable that it will pay normal tax during the specified period.

One unit of Parent Company is entitled to tax holiday under the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India. Accordingly, no deferred tax (asset or liability) relating to such units is recognized in respect of temporary differences which reverse during the tax holiday period. Deferred tax in respect of temporary differences which reverse after the tax holiday period is recognized in the year in which the temporary differences originate. However, the Group restricts recognition of deferred tax assets to the extent it is probable that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized.

q. Foreign Currency Transactions & Translations

Functional and presentation currency

The consolidated financial statements are presented in INR, the functional currency of the Group. Items included in the financial statements of the Group are recorded using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Group operates (the 'functional currency').

Transaction and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Group at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in OCI or Statement of Profit and Loss are also recognised in OCI or Statement of Profit and Loss, respectively).

r. Provisions and Contingent Liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

s. Government Grants

The Group recognizes government grants only when there is reasonable assurance that the conditions attached to them shall be complied with and the grants will be received. Grants related to assets are treated as deferred income and are recognized as other income in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful life of the asset. Grants related to income are recognized on a systematic basis over the periods necessary to match them with the related costs which they are intended to compensate and are deducted from the expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

When the Group receives grants of non-monetary assets, the asset and the grant are recorded at fair value amounts and released to profit or loss over the expected useful life in a pattern of consumption of the benefit of the underlying asset i.e. by equal annual instalments.

Exports entitlements are recognised when the right to receive credit as per the terms of the schemes is established in respect of the exports made by the Group and when there is no significant uncertainty regarding the ultimate collection of the relevant export proceeds.

t. Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of the Group by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for events such as bonus issue, bonus element in a rights issue, share split, and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

u. Current and non-current classification

Based on the time involved between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle for determining current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities in the balance sheet.

v. Dividend:

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

w. Measurement of EBITDA

The Group presents Earnings before Interest expense, Tax, Depreciation and Amortisation (EBITDA) in the Statement of Profit and Loss; this is not specifically required by Ind AS 1. The terms EBITDA are not defined in Ind AS. Ind AS complaint Schedule III allows companies to present Line items, sub-line items and sub-totals shall be presented as an addition or substitution on the face of the Financial Statements when such presentation is relevant to an understanding of the Group's financial position or performance or to cater to industry/sector-specific disclosure requirements or when required for compliance with the amendments to the Companies Act or under the Indian Accounting Standards.

Accordingly, the Group has elected to present earnings before interest expense, tax, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) as a separate line item on the face of the Statement of Profit and Loss. The Group measures EBITDA on the basis of profit/(loss) from continuing operations. In its measurement, the Group does not include depreciation and amortization expense, finance costs, share of profit/loss from associate and tax expense, but includes other income.

x. Rounding of amounts

All amounts disclosed in the consolidated financial Statements and notes have been rounded off to the nearest Lacs (with two places of decimal) as per the requirement of Schedule III, unless otherwise stated.

y. New and amendments standards

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has notified Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2024 to amend the following Ind AS which are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2024. (ii) Amendments to Ind AS 116 Leases – Lease Liability in a Sale and Leaseback

The MCA notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2024, which amend Ind AS 116, Leases, with respect to Lease Liability in a Sale and Leaseback.

The amendments had no impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

z. Standards notified but not yet effective

The new and amended standards and interpretations that are issued, but not yet effective, up to the date of issuance of the Group's financial statements are disclosed below. The Group will adopt this new and amended standard, when it becomes effective.

Lack of exchangeability – Amendments to Ind AS 21

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs notified amendments to Ind AS 21 The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates to specify how an entity should assess whether a currency is exchangeable and how it should determine a spot exchange rate when exchangeability is lacking. The amendments also require disclosure of information that enables users of its financial statements to understand how the currency not being exchangeable into the other currency affects, or is expected to affect, the entity's financial performance, financial position and cash flows.

The amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2025. When applying the amendments, an entity cannot restate comparative information.

The amendments are not expected to have a material impact on the Group's financial statements.

Nature and purpose of reserves

Securities Premium

Securities premium reserve is used to record the premium on issue of shares. The reserve can be utilised only for limited purposes such as issuance of bonus shares /buyback of shares in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

General Reserve

Under the erstwhile Companies Act 1956, general reserve was created through an annual transfer of net income at a specified percentage in accordance with applicable regulations. The purpose of these transfers was to ensure that if a dividend distribution in a given year is more than 10% of the paid-up capital of the Company for that year, then the total dividend distribution is less than the total distributable results for that year. Consequent to introduction of Companies Act 2013, the requirement to mandatorily transfer a specified percentage of the net profit to general reserve has been withdrawn. However, the amount previously transferred to the general reserve can be utilised only in accordance with the specific requirements of Companies Act, 2013.

Capital Reserve

Retained Earnings

This Reserve represents the cumulative profits of the Company and effects of remeasurement of defined benefit obligations. This Reserve can be utilized in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

Other Comprehensive Income

This Reserve represents the cumulative gains (net of losses) arising on the revaluation of Equity Instruments measured at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income, net of amounts reclassified, if any, to Retained Earnings when those instruments are disposed of.

Foreign Currency Translation Reserve

Exchange differences arising on translation of the foreign operations are recognised in other comprehensive income as described in the accounting policy and accumulated in a separate reserve within equity. The cumulative amount is reclassified to profit or loss when the net investment is disposed of.

3.20 OTHER EQUITY (Contd..)

Capital Redemption Reserve (CRR)

The capital redemption reserve may be applied by the company, in paying up unissued shares of the company to be issued to shareholders of the company as fully paid bonus shares.

(v) Sensitivity Analysis :-

Significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligation are discount rate, expected salary increase and mortality. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant. The results of sensitivity analysis is given below:

₹ in Lacs

Particulars	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024
Defined Benefit Obligation (Base)	6,619.23	5,838.65

Particulars	As at March 31, 2025		As at March 31, 2024
	Decrease	Increase	Decrease	Increase
Discount Rate (- / + 0.50% - 1%) (₹ in Lacs)	6,916.00	6,343.07	6,120.32	5,563.32
(% change compared to base due to sensitivity)	4.48%	(4.17%)	4.82%	(4.72%)
Salary Growth Rate (- / + 0.50% - 1%) (₹ in Lacs)	6,346.07	6,907.31	5,564.71	6,113.24
(% change compared to base due to sensitivity)	(4.13%)	4.35%	(4.69%)	4.70%
Attrition Rate (- / + 50% of present attrition rate) (₹ in Lacs)	6,823.99	6,422.92	5,941.21	5,705.23
(% change compared to base due to sensitivity)	3.09%	(2.97%)	1.76%	(2.28%)
Mortality Rate (- / + 10%) (₹ in Lacs)	6,575.94	6,575.28	5,797.90	5,797.52
(% change compared to base due to sensitivity)	(0.65%)	(0.66%)	(0.70%)	(0.70%)

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

(vi) Effect of Plan on Entity's Future Cash Flows

a) Funding arrangements and Funding Policy

The Group has purchased an insurance policy to provide for payment of gratuity to the employees in India. Every year, the insurance company carries out a funding valuation based on the latest employee data provided by the Group. Any deficit in the assets arising as a result of such valuation is funded by the Group.

3.41 Defined Benefit Plan (Gratuity) : (Contd..)

c) Maturity Profile of Defined Benefit Obligation

₹ in Lacs

Particulars	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024
Weighted average duration (based on discounted cash flows)	4 Years	5 Years

₹ in Lacs

Expected cash flows over the next (valued on undiscounted basis):	2024-2025	2023-2024
1 Year	1,760.91	1,406.20
2 to 5 Years	3,119.94	2,624.25
6 to 10 Years	2,563.40	2,437.12
More than 10 Years	1,930.85	2,417.61

(vii) Description of Risk Exposures

Valuations are performed on certain basic set of pre determined assumptions and other regulatory frame work which may vary over time. Thus, the Group is exposed to various risks in providing the above gratuity benefit which are as follows:

Interest Rate Risk: The plan exposes the Group to the risk off all in interest rates. A fall in interest rates will result in an increase in the ultimate cost of providing the above benefit and will thus result in an increase in the value of the liability (as shown in financial statements).

Liquidity Risk: This is the risk that the Group is not able to meet the short-term gratuity pay outs. This may arise due to non availability of enough cash/cash equivalent to meet the liabilities or holding of illiquid assets not being sold in time.

Salary Escalation Risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan is calculated with the assumption of salary increase rate of plan participants in future. Deviation in the rate of increase of salary in future for plan participants from the rate of increase in salary used to determine the present value of obligation will have a bearing on the plan's liability.

Demographic Risk: The Group has used certain mortality and attrition assumptions in valuation of the liability. The Group is exposed to the risk of actual experience turning out to be worse compared to the assumptions considered for the valuation.

Regulatory Risk: Gratuity benefit is paid in accordance with the requirements of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 (as amended from time to time) or relevant applicable statute of respective foreign subsidiaries.The Group is exposed to any changes to the regulations.

Asset Liability Mismatching or Market Risk: The duration of the liability is longer compared to duration of assets, exposing the Group to market risk for volatilities/fall in interest rate.

Investment Risk: The probability or likelihood of occurrence of losses relative to the expected return on any particular investment.

3.42 Defined Benefit Plan (Provident Fund) :

(i) In respect of certain employees in India, provident fund contributions are made to a Trust administered by the Group.

The defined benefit obligation arises from the possibility that during any time period in the future, the scheme may earn insufficient investment income to meet the guaranteed interest rate declared by government/EPFO/ relevant authorities.

The Taxation Laws (Amendment) Ordinance, 2019 was promulgated on 20th September, 2019 which amends the Income Tax Act, 1961, and the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019. The Ordinance provides domestic companies with an option to opt for lower tax rates, provided they do not claim certain deductions. Further, CBDT has clarified that the tax credit of MAT paid by the domestic company exercising option under section 115BAA of the Act shall not be available consequent to exercising of such option.

As there is no time line within which option under section 115BAA can be exercised, it may be noted that a domestic company having credit of MAT may, if it so desires, exercise the option after utilising the said credit against the regular tax payable. The management of Holding Company has assessed the impact of the above ordinance and CBDT clarification and in view of the significant amount of MAT credit and a unit having tax holiday, the management has chosen not to opt for lower tax rates and continue with the normal tax rate.

One of the manufacturing facilities of the Group located in Assam is eligible for availing income tax benefits till FY 2025-26 under section 80IE of Income Tax Act, 1961 (IT Act) as a result of which the Group is paying MAT under section 115JB of the IT Act. In order to determine the utilization of MAT credit in future years, the management has projected its book profits and tax profits and based on the same, MAT credit has been recognized. During the current year, the Group has recognised MAT credit amounting to ₹ 8,391.00 lacs and the aggregate of such MAT credit as at March 31, 2025 is ₹ 53,421.21 lacs. Subsequent to the recognition of MAT credit, there is an unrecognised MAT credit amounting to ₹ 2,943.70 Lacs which will expire between AY 2025-27, as it is not reasonably certain that such credit can be utilised against future taxable income.

3.57 Related Party Transactions (Contd..)

Terms and conditions of transactions with related parties

The sales to and purchases from related parties are made on terms equivalent to those that prevail in arm's length transactions. Outstanding balances at the year-end are unsecured and interest free and settlement occurs in cash.

Refer Note No. 3.5 (b) for terms & conditions pertaining to investment in Compulsorily Convertible Preference Shares of Cannis Lupus Services India Pvt. Ltd.

3.58 Critical Estimates and Judgements

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to contingent assets and liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expenses during the period. These estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and management's best knowledge of current events and actions the Group may take in future.

Information about critical estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities are included in the following notes:

i) Estimation of defined benefit obligations

The liabilities of the Group arising from employee benefit obligations and the related current service cost, are determined on an actuarial basis using various assumptions Refer Note No. 3.41 & 3.42 for significant assumption used.

ii) Estimation of tax expenses, assets and payable

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax credit and on unused losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies.

The ultimate realisation of deferred income tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which the temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversals of deferred tax liabilities and the projected future taxable income in making this assessment. Based on the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable income over the periods in which the deferred income tax assets are deductible, management believes that the Group will realise the benefits of those deductible differences. The amount of the deferred income tax assets considered realisable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carry forward periods are reduced. Refer Note No. 3.8, 3.17, 3.24, 3.32 and 3.50

iii) Estimation of provisions and contingencies

Provisions are liabilities of uncertain amount or timing recognised where a legal or constructive obligation exists at the balance sheet date, as a result of a past event, where the amount of the obligation can be reliably estimated and where the outflow of economic benefit is probable. Contingent liabilities are possible obligations that may arise from past event whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events which are not fully within the control of the group. The Group exercises judgement in recognizing the provisions and assessing the exposure to contingent liabilities relating to pending litigations. Judgement is necessary in assessing the likelihood of the success of the pending claim and to quantify the possible range of financial settlement. Due to this inherent uncertainty in the evaluation process, actual losses may be different from originally estimated provision. Refer Note No. 3.23, 3.31, 3.43 & 3.46.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

as at & for the year ended March 31, 2025

3.58 Critical Estimates and Judgements (Contd..)

iv) Estimation of expected useful lives and residual values of Property, Plants and Equipment

Property, Plant and Equipment are depreciated at historical cost using straight-line method based on the estimated useful life, taken into account at residual value. The asset's residual value and useful life are based on the Group's best estimates and reviewed, and adjusted if required, at each Balance Sheet date. Refer Note No. 3.1, 3.2, 3.3, 3.4

v) Impairment of non financial assets / investment in associates

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or cash generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The fair value less costs of disposal calculation is based on available data from binding sales transactions, conducted at arm's length, for similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. The value in use calculation is based on a DCF model. The carrying amounts of the Group's non-financial assets /investment in associates are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the recoverable amounts of cash-generating units have been determined based on value in use calculations. These calculations require the use of estimates such as discount rates and growth rates.

vi) Impairment Assessment of Goodwill

Assessment for impairment is done at each Balance Sheet date as to whether there is any indication that a non-financial asset may be impaired. Indefinite life intangible assets and goodwill are subject to a review for impairment annually or more frequently if events or circumstances indicate that it is necessary. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets is considered as a cash generating unit. Goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

In case of any indication of impairment exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the individual asset/cash generating unit is made. Asset/cash generating unit whose carrying value exceeds their recoverable amount are written down to the recoverable amount by recognising the impairment loss as an expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

The impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of goodwill (if any) allocated to the cash generating unit and then to the other assets of the unit, pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Recoverable amount is higher of an asset's or cash generating unit's value in use and its fair value less cost of disposal. Value in use is estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset or cash generating unit and from its disposal at the end of its useful life discounted to their present value using a post-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Assessment is also done at each Balance Sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in prior accounting periods may no longer exist or may have decreased. Basis the assessment a reversal of an impairment loss for an asset other than goodwill is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

vii) Fair Value Measurements

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the Balance Sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair values are measured using valuation techniques which involve various judgements and assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. 3.58 Critical Estimates and Judgements (Contd..)

viii) Lease Accounting

The Group evaluates if an arrangement qualifies to be a lease as per the requirements of Ind AS 116. Identification of a lease requires significant judgment. The Group uses significant judgement in assessing the lease term (including anticipated renewals) and the applicable discount rate.

The Group determines the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease, together with both periods covered by an option to extend the lease if the Group is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and periods covered by an option to terminate the lease if the Group is reasonably certain not to exercise that option. In assessing whether the Group is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend a lease, or not to exercise an option to terminate a lease, it considers all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the Group to exercise the option to extend the lease, or not to exercise the option to terminate the lease. The Group revises the lease term if there is a change in the non-cancellable period of a lease.

The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

ix) Revenue recognition-Estimating variable consideration for returns and rebates

The Group estimates variable considerations to be included in the transaction price for the sale of goods with rights of return and volume rebates.

The Group developed a statistical model for forecasting sales returns, damage returns and rebates. The model used the historical return data to come up with expected return percentages. These percentages are applied to determine the expected value of the variable consideration.

The Group updates its assessment of expected returns and rebates quarterly and the refund liabilities are adjusted accordingly. Estimates of expected returns and rebates are sensitive to changes in circumstances and the Group's past experience regarding returns and rebate entitlements may not be representative of customers' actual returns and rebate entitlements in the future. Refer Note No. 3.31, 3.64 & 3.65.

x) Inventory Overhead

The valuation of inventories involves judgment in the allocation of overheads, particularly fixed production overheads. The allocation is based on the normal capacity of the production facilities. Management reviews the basis and method of overhead absorption periodically to ensure that inventory is not over- or under-valued.

Estimation of normal capacity requires judgment based on past trends, forecasted production, seasonal factors, and management's operational plans. Any deviation from these estimates may impact the cost of inventories and, consequently, the profit or loss of the Company.
